Boards split on Housing Authority vacancy

Deming Way Director said to be leaving

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - The Board of Selectmen and the Housing Authority split their votes for a temporary appointment to the board that presides over the Deming Way public housing complex.

A vacancy created by the resignation of Matthew Cox late last month created an opening on the board, which also has a vacancy in the state appointed seat. The Housing Authority consists of five members, each serving a five-year term. Town residents elect four members and the governor appoints one member. The Deming Way complex, located off Burlington Avenue, includes 72 units of elderly and disabled housing, 13 units of family housing, 11 units of low-income housing, and another 35 subcontracted units.

Two candidates came forward in recent days and weeks seeking a temporary appointment from Selectmen to the Housing Authority to fill Cox's seat until the next town election.

Stacie Murphy appeared at the last Board of Selectmen meeting October 13, having submitted a letter of interest in the appointment, and explained that she had been interested in the open state seat, but was unsuccessful and thus sought the local seat.

Jean Mazzocca, a resident of Deming Way, sent a letter of interest to selectmen just before the most recent selectmen meeting.

Selectmen and the Housing Authority board were complimentary to both candidates, and Chairman Mike Newhouse advised both that the individual not appointed Monday night could still pur-

Lucky little feline needs your help

By LARZ F. NEILSON

WILMINGTON - A cat hit by a car earlier this month in North Wilmington is doing well, in spite of its injuries.

The cat was hit on Rte. 62, near High Street, about 10:00 a.m. on October 8. When Animal Control Officer Ellen Sawyer arrived on the scene, a young woman was kneeling by the cat. Another woman also stopped to help.

The cat was lying on the road with a broken leg. When the women attempted to transfer the cat onto a towel, it jumped up and ran, in spite of its injury. The rescuers were able to find the cat in some bushes in a nearby yard.

The car that hit the cat never stopped. The young woman and her male friend had seen the cat hit, but could not provide a detailed description of the car.

Sawyer took the cat to the Andover Animal Hospital, where the hospital owner and the veterinarian agreed to treat and care for the cat. The vet had to amputate the cat's right foreleg and part of its shoulder. The cat had bitten its tongue, which was stitched. He was also neutered and vaccinated.

The cat, a gray and white short-hair domestic, is adjusting well and hops around the clinic. He has been named "Survivor." Because he is very affectionate, Sawyer assumes that the cat was abandoned, not feral. Nobody has called to report a lost cat.

The veterinary services provided to this cat are now over $2,000, and the town has no budget for such care. Sawyer is appealing for people to support the cat with donations, which may be sent to the Andover Animal Hospital, 322 Lowell St., Andover, MA 01810. Any donations should mention "Survivor."

She is also looking for someone to adopt the cat.

No one knows where Survivor came from, but Andover Animal Hospital didn't hesitate to save his life after he was struck by a car on Route 62. Wilmington Animal Control Officer Ellen Sawyer is asking for donations to reimburse the veterinary hospital. Survivor lost a leg, but appears to be getting along with his remaining three. He is in need of a new home and a loving family.

Treats for Troops on Halloween

Local Soldier Saved from IED by Local Heroes care-packages

By JAYNE W. MILLER

T E W K S - BURY/WILMINGTON

Sometimes a care package to a soldier in a distant land brings a bit of comfort from home and some practical needs hard to find in the desert. Once in awhile, those packages could actually save a life. For Marine Sergeant Craig Sullivan, the latter was literally true when a roadside IED in Fallujah hit his Humvee. Care packages from Local Heroes, stacked in the seat next to him, absorbed most of the shrapnel.

For moms tired of all the excess candy around the house after Halloween, one local lady has devised solutions that get the candy out of the house and into those care packages.

Treats for Troops is a local effort by Tewksbury resident

Kelly Wentworth, who read a story this autumn about another organization in Virginia that collects the leftover Halloween candy and uses it in 20,000 Christmas stockings the group sends to American troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. Rather than pay shipping to send candy to Virginia, however, Wentworth teamed up with Wilmington-based Local Heroes to collect Tewksbury's extra goodies and include them in the care packages.

"I have three girls who trick-or-treat and, well, do we really need 87 Hershey bars? My girls may say 'yes,' but it's just too much," Wentworth told the Crier. "With all the parties going on and Safe Halloween, there's just too much candy. What are you going to do with all of it? It just goes to waste."

Girl Scouts offer hand to Senior Center

Proceeds on fleece blanket sales to benefit Department of elderly services

By DANIEL R. CHALMERS

WILMINGTON - Wilmington's Department of Elderly Services will be holding its Holiday Craft Fair on Saturday, November 21 at the Buzzell Senior Center, located at 15 School Street in Wilmington. It will run from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. The Senior Center opened in 1986, and has been holding this event practically from its inception. However, this year's fair will include a special group of participants.

The Second Grade Brownies of Troop #61799 of Wilmington will be making fleece blankets to raffle at this year's fair. Additionally, they are considering making pillows to accompany them. All of the proceeds will be donated to Wilmington's Department of Elderly Services.

The Troop's leaders, Maureen Fruciano and Cheryl Mills, stated that the girls wanted to do a community service project in town. "Several girls mentioned that they know people who attend, of have attended, the center," said Fruciano.

"They searched us out," said Terri Marciello, Wilmington's Director of Elderly Services.

About ten girls from the troop will be participating, and they will be aided by ten older girls. The girls' actions will go towards one of the five badges that they will earn this year. The girls will be using funds they have earned through a recent fundraiser in order to cut and make three to five blankets to raffle off.

Fruciano and Mills commented on the significance of this project for the girls.

"Girl Scouts is all about helping others, and this will be a rewarding experience to know that they are helping others who need it. From the thought process, the planning and actual day of the event, they will have a hand in doing it all," said Fruciano.

In addition to their efforts in making the blankets from their fundraiser money, the girls were also prepared to shorten one of their own trips in order to help out. The night before the upcoming event, the girls will be spending at the Stone Zoo, in Stoneham, earning their Zookeeper badges. "When asked if they were willing to leave a little early the next morning to set up at the craft

Halloween Flu Clinic

School based H1N1 clinics coming up

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - As President Obama last week declared H1N1 influenza a national emergency, and amid growing concern about the availability of vaccines for both H1N1 and seasonal flu, Wilmington Health Director Shelley Newhouse and Public Health Nurse Judy Baggs appeared before Selectmen Monday night to talk about Wilmington's next seasonal flu clinic.

On October 31, from 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. at the Wilmington Town Hall, the Wilmington Board of Health will be holding a Seasonal Flu vaccination clinic utilizing the Flu Mist vaccine.

The Flu Mist vaccine is live attenuated influenza vaccine (LAIV). Flu Mist is the nasal spray seasonal flu vaccine and is very effective for healthy people 2-49 years of age who are not pregnant. Unlike the flu shot, the nasal spray flu vaccine contains live viruses. However, the viruses are attenuated (weakened) and cannot cause flu illness. In children, side effects can include runny nose, headache, muscle aches and fever. In adults, side effects can include runny nose, headache, sore throat and fever.

"Remember, side effects are rare and are mild, short lasting, especially when compared to symptoms of influenza infection. If you received

CAN YOU SAVE ON SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES?

Social Security taxes cost 6.2 percent of wages-12.4 percent if self-employed-up to $106,800 of income. With some planning, you can trim those taxes.

Some business owners, for instance, can alternate high-earning years with low earning years, paying themselves more or less each year. Be careful not to bump up into a higher tax bracket. For employees expecting a bonus that might bring them close to the wage base, ask that the bonus be paid the following January. Result: no-bonus years alternating with two-bonus years.

Married couples working together can allocate income unevenly between the spouses, within reason. The primary earner will pay maximum Social Security taxes; the other ideally the one who will file for spousal benefits will pay much less. Children under 18 who work in the family business need not pay federal (or most state) payroll taxes at all. Their pay must not be out of line.

Where there are tax savings to be found, you can count on us at Box) The Town of Wilmington Board of Health has received 330 doses of Flu Mist, which will be given out on a first come, first serve basis. Medical screeners will be present at the clinic for anyone who has questions about the Flu Mist. Residents may call the Board of Health at 978-658-4298, but will still have to go through the screening process at the clinic.

Newhouse hopes to host another seasonal flu shot clinic in December, pending vaccine availability. That clinic will be open to everyone. For those worried about finding the shot, Newhouse offers a reminder that last year she held her flu clinic on December 4.

"Seasonal flu is not floating around right now, so you have time to get the seasonal flu shot, which doesn't present itself usually until January to February," Newhouse told the Crier. As for the current supply of vaccine, Newhouse says, "I just don't want to hold them and I'm getting them out to priority groups first."

Those priority groups were identified by the State Department of Public Health and include pregnant women - a group particularly vulnerable to the H1N1 strain. Newhouse says she has a supply of preservative free seasonal flu and H1N1 vaccines

Who should not receive the nasal spray flu vaccine?

- People 50 years of age and over
- People under 2 years of age
- People with a medical condition that places them at high risk for complications from influenza, including those with chronic heart or lung disease, such as asthma or reactive airways disease; people with medical conditions such as diabetes or kidney failure; or people with illnesses that weaken the immune system, or who take medications that can weaken the immune system.

- Children under 5-years-old with a history of recurrent wheezing
- Children or adolescents receiving aspirin
- People with a history of Guillain-Barre Syndrome that occurred after receiving influenza vaccine
- Pregnant women
- People who have a severe allergy to chicken eggs or who are allergic to any of the nasal spray vaccine components.

and any pregnant woman is encouraged to call the Board of Health if she needs a vaccination.

Correction

In the story titled "More study needed" appearing in last week's edition of the Town Crier, it was incorrectly reported that Kathy Barry is the President of the Wilmington Environmental Restoration Committee (WERC). In point of fact, Wilmington resident Martha Stevenson is currently serving as President of WERC.

Furthermore, a quote appearing in the article was incorrectly attributed.

The following quote should have been attributed to Martha Stevenson: "WERC understands that the slow pace is very frustrating to the public, but we are glad that the EPA is requiring additional, very rigorous site assessment. We are eager to review new data as it becomes available, and hope to work more closely with residents going forward to help them understand both the Superfund process and the specific results of the on-going field work."

When the almshouse was anything but charitable

A dark history of Tewksbury State Hospital

By LARZ F. NEILSON

If this story were fiction, it would be a Gothic horror novel.

The true story of the Tewksbury almshouse paints a grisly picture of the facility in the 1870's and early 1880's. The almshouse, run by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, was indeed a place of horror.

Hearings were held before the Committee on Charitable Institutions in 1883, with Gov. Benjamin Butler leading the charge. Butler, a Lowell attorney, was a Union major general in the Civil War. He then served as provisional mayor of New Orleans and then served in Congress for several years. He was elected governor of Massachusetts in 1882, serving for the year of 1883.

The atrocities revealed in the hearings included deliberate neglect, starvation, the sale of corpses, grave robbing, killing of infants by over-medication, housing inmates under horrid conditions, tanning of human skin, and theft of inmates' clothing and possessions and of large quantities of bulk supplies. These horrors had been going on for many years.

In his inaugural address, Gov. Butler charged that there was gross extravagance and mismanagement at the almshouse. He then vetoed an appropriation bill, charging that 70 percent of the appropriation was used for salaries. He said that 150 to 250 bodies of babies were sold to medical institutions every year.

Newspaper clippings from the Lowell Weekly Sun of 1883 have been posted on a web site by the Tewksbury Historical Commission. The clippings report on the testimony given at the hearings in the spring of 1883 and provide the information cited in this story. The personnel mentioned were Capt. Thomas Marsh, his wife, Dr. Nellie Marsh, their son, Thomas J. Marsh, Jr. and the medical director, Dr. Lathrop. Other persons were involved, but were not mentioned in the reports as being punished or removed.

Dr. John Dixwell of Boston was the first witness. He testified that he had graduated from Harvard Medical School in 1873, and that during his three years there, he saw and knew of several hundred bodies of infants, each year, brought to the medical school for dissection. The students obtained the bodies from a Mr. Andrews, who fixed the price at three to five dollars. Dr. Dixwell said that Andrews told him the bodies came from the Tewksbury almshouse. He said that some of those dissected showed that they had died of starvation.

Charles Dudley, a night watchman, testified that Capt. Marsh, the superintendent, twice instructed him, "Aside from a building being on fire, don't notice too much." The watchman said he was told he might get fees if he would join the work done there at night. He also saw boxes carted off to the railroad station, filled with sheets, bedding, carpets, etc. Dudley said that the family of Mrs. Marsh's daughter visited the almshouse frequently, and always took off boxes of such articles. He also said he had seen Thomas Marsh, Jr. carrying off bodies in an express wagon to the depot, at night, in a stealthy manner. When he spoke to Capt. Marsh, he was told to keep still about the loading of bodies. "We have got to have some pay for our trouble taking care of these critters," Marsh was alleged to have said.

The grave robbing was carried out by men led by Joseph Howard, known as "French Joe," who by day was in charge of the baggage room.

The watchman said there were some 20 children in one of the wards who used to cry at night, and they told him it was because they were hungry. The state of food for the inmates and insane was always very poor. He spoke about this to Capt. Marsh, who replied that he guessed they got enough. Dudley told him he thought they didn't, and he had taken the liberty several times to bring in pieces of bread. Capt. Marsh told him he didn't want him to do that any more.

Dudley told of a night nurse showing him a bottle, which the day nurse had left, containing a morphine mixture. She would give it to the children and it would keep them quiet. She said she didn't care if it killed them, as that was none of her business. All of the babies born there or brought in during Dudley's first year there died, except one. He said he knew there were 73, as his wife had to count them.

In many instances, persons were sent to the almshouse would arrive with a trunk of clothing. The clothing would be stolen and the inmate would be left with filthy rags and little else.

Jennie Pope was a housekeeper at the almshouse from May 8, 1876 to August 10, 1877. She had sewed for Dr. Marsh. She testified that she had seen Dr. Marsh bring things from the baggage room, including silk dresses. And she had seen Dr. Marsh's granddaughter in a dress that looked like one from the baggage room.

She also said she had seen some of the paupers making rugs from the dresses, but had never seen the rugs being used in the building.

She also said that there was always as much as a week's notice of an official visit, and that everything was put in shape. Other testimony brought out that one inmate was given decent clothing and fed well, and was shown off to visitors.

Frank Barker and his wife were in charge of the insane ward at the almshouse from 1876 to 1879. He testified that patients would be left for days without food, were unattended by a physician when sick, and some had holes eaten in their heads by vermin, which crawled about on their beds. The patients, about 70 in all, were bathed with no change of water, though many of them had running sores.

Barker said that Dr. Lathrop and the Marshes had their attention called to these matters, but showed cruel indifference.

Mrs. Eva Bowen said she was sent to Tewksbury in 1875 after the birth of her illegitimate son. She believed that Dr. Nellie Marsh had killed her son with morphine. She never knew Dr. Marsh to give her child any medication other than morphine, cod liver oil and whiskey.

An audit of the books compared purchases of 1862 and 1882. The 1882 inmate population, 892, was about 20 less than the 1862 population of 912. The almshouse staff had risen from 22 in 1862 to 53 in 1882. The purchases of supplies had greatly increased. The following statistics list the 1862 figure first, then the 1882 figure: Beef, 52,566 lbs. - 88,528 lbs.; Fish 21,982 lbs. - 33,117 lbs.; Butter 3127 lbs. - 18,400 lbs. Coal 477 tons - 2192 tons. The extra coal represented a difference of $22,000.

In spite of the greatly increased food supplies purchased, however, inmates were starved, and the food they were given was old and rotten.

Gov. Butler charged that many of the supplies were diverted to a boarding house in Exeter, NH, run by Capt. Marsh's granddaughter.

The state Board of Health, Lunacy and Charity removed Thomas J. Marsh, Dr. Nellie Marsh and Thomas J. Marsh, Jr. from their positions at the almshouse. Dr. Lathrop was allowed to resign from his position as medical director.

Tewksbury Hospital today is nothing like the almshouse of 130 years ago. To this day, though, at least one old building on the Tewksbury campus bears deep scratch marks left on the woodwork by the inmates.

Six-year-old twins, Christopher & Cara Wang, dressed as a goblin and a cat, marched in the Horribles Parade in Wilmington on Sunday.

Letters to the editor

A 'Horrible' time

Dear Editor,
On Sunday, October 25, 2009 the Recreation Department sponsored the 42nd Annual Horribles Parade. Hundreds of children and their families marched from the Public Safety Building to the Wilmington High School Cafeteria where treats galore awaited all costumed children. To the delight of all, a fire truck and police escort led the way.
We estimate that approximately 575 children participated in this event. The success of an event of this size requires the support of many organizations within town. Special thanks to Century 21 Starwood, Children's Corner, Kiwanis Club, Lucci's Supermarket, Jean & Jim Miceli, Northeast

RealtyPartners, Rite Aid, Tewksbury-Wilmington Elks, The Wonder Years Learning Center, Wilmington Sons of Italy, Wilmington Fire Department, Wilmington Firefighters, and the Wilmington Police Department for their generous contributions.
Sincere thanks also to the dozens of volunteers who decorated, distributed candy and in general helped everyone enjoy this Halloween tradition.
I am grateful to everyone who helped to make this event an overwhelming success.

Sincerely yours,
Deborah Cipriani

What's Cooking?

by Paula Murphy

I was happy this week to receive recipes from some of the bakers among us, because that so rarely happens. Looks like pumpkin recipes are on everyone's mind. Please keep your recipes coming, especially any family favorites for the upcoming holidays. Send them to paula.wilmingtoncooks@hotmail.com. I look forward to hearing from you soon!

Pumpkin Bread

(from 'a friend')
2/3 cups shortening
2 2/3 cups sugar
4 eggs
1 can pumpkin
2/3 cups water or orange juice
3 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves

2/3 cups nuts
2/3 cups raisins
2/3 cups chopped dates (optional)
Preheat oven to 350 degrees, and grease three loaf pans or 4 one-pound coffee cans. Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, pumpkin, and orange juice. Sift dry ingredients and add to shortening mixture. Mix in nuts, dates, and raisins. Pour into prepared pans, filling half-way. Bake for 1 hour or until a toothpick comes out clean.

Pumpkin Roll

(Jo-Ann Marra)
Cake:
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
2/3 cups pumpkin
1 teaspoon lemon juice
3/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon baking powder

2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts
Filling: Beat together 1 cup confectionary sugar 6 ounces cream cheese 43 tablespoons butter 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Preheat oven to 3475 degrees, and lay greased wax paper onto a 15"x10"x1" pan. Beat eggs on high speed for five minutes. Gradually beat in sugar, then stir in lemon juice and pumpkin. Spread into lined pan and sprinkle with walnuts. Bake 15 minutes. Turn cake onto a clean dish towel dusted with confectionary sugar. Roll up towel and cake together, and let cool. Unroll, fill, and roll up again. Dust with confectionary sugar.

Pumpkin Cookies

(Nina Agnes)
1 cup sugar
1 can pumpkin
1/2 cup shortening
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
2 cups all purpose flour or whole wheat flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts
Preheat oven to 3475 degrees. Mix sugar, pumpkin, shortening, and orange peel. Mix, then stir into pumpkin mixture the flour, baking powder, baking soda, cinnamon, and salt. Stir in raisins and nuts. Drip dough by teaspoon-full onto an ungreased cookie sheet and bake 8-10 minutes. Remove immediately from cookie sheet to cool.

Letter to the editor

Shawsheen fields

Dear Editor,
I'd like to respond to an anonymous entry that appeared in Your Two Cents of the October 14, 2009 edition of this paper. It was suggested that Wilmington's DPW was neglecting the fields behind the Shawsheen Elementary School. This is simply untrue.
To quote the unsigned posting, "Isn't it about time that our DPW did some work on the Shawsheen soccer fields? The fields are in terrible condition. They do not drain well. There are holes everywhere. This past Saturday, when almost every town in the MYSL had games, we had to cancel most games again, for the 3rd time this year."
Do not blame the DPW for the condition of those fields. Instead, look to the people who schedule the games and clinics there.
When we showed up to fertilize it, there was a clinic in progress. We tried to conduct core aeration, and there were games going on. We even have difficulty cutting the grass without having to inconvenience people, and asking them to move from one side of the field to the other.

If you don't cut, aerate, and fertilize a field, you're going to get a field that looks like the ones behind the Shawsheen School. When you use a field as much as those are used for seven months a year, there is very little time to provide the proper maintenance. And I have not yet found a way to grow grass in the winter.
All of the other fields in Wilmington, which receive the proper rest and maintenance, are all in good shape.

Another issue with Pop Warner personnel

Dear Editor,
Regrettably, this letter brings to light more negativity concerning Wilmington Pop Warner. If the Football Director of Wilmington Pop Warner endeavors to abide by Pop Warner's Mission Statement, let me refresh his memory as to what it states: "Pop Warner seeks to provide fun athletic learning opportunities for children, while emphasizing the importance of academic success."
"Pop Warner's commitment to academics is what separates the program from other youth sports around the world."
My son received an application for the Pop Warner Little Scholars Program, which recognizes academic achievements in school while playing football. At no time were we told of a deadline to submit the form, either by Pop Warner Administration or Coaching staff. I was informed that we submitted it too late, and that was the end of the story. While I understand deadlines are set for a reason, and there are many children involved in this organization, I was never informed of any deadline. When I asked the Director to try and get it in and see what he could do, he said 'no,' it was late. After realizing the Director was not going to help, I contacted the New England Division of Pop Warner. Immediately, I received an email and a phone call trying to assist me, explaining that Pop Warner is all about the kids, in the program, and that they would hate to see my son get left out. Last year, due to a grading system error, many kids almost got left out entirely from the program. However, a parent, who also went to a higher Division of Pop Warner, spoke up and got their applications reconsidered.

At a recent away football game, when I tried to get my son's completed application back from the Director, I was informed that he no longer had it. He immediately started pointing his finger in my face and yelling at me about going over his head, and that I should not have done that. He stated he would not make any exceptions for my son, and that I should be ashamed of myself for what I had caused. I asked him several times not to speak to me in that tone of voice, yet he continued to scream at me in front of at least 15 other individuals, a few of them being Board Members - who just sat and listened. My husband overheard the Director's confrontational remarks from where he was standing, and said that tone of voice was not necessary for this situation. The Director said yes, it was, and he didn't care. My husband said, "You don't care and that's why Wilmington has been in the negative media for two weeks."

The Director then said, "No, I don't care about you." After I walked away he said to my husband, "You need to control your wife."
I was not the one pointing fingers or being belligerent. As a parent, I'm looking out for my child's welfare, especially when others do not. For my husband and me, academics are a priority - as is recognition for my son when he achieves academic success. We're not going to brush it off because of lack of communication. In the process, I don't expect to be humiliated by Wilmington Pop Warner's Football Director, a male authoritative figure, who is apparently comfortable speaking to women with utter disrespect. There is no need to point a finger in my face or to yell at me in such an inappropriate manner. I hope that he is proud of himself for making a fool out of himself and upsetting a parent to the point of being shaken up. Obviously, the children playing this game are not in his best interest, and I am embarrassed to say my son is affiliated with Wilmington Pop Warner. I'm sure that he will go ahead and write a rebuttal to this letter, but everyone there knows exactly what happened. I'm sure he will discuss me at his Board Meeting. It's about time I spoke up and upset the apple cart, because I'm tired of his politics and the way he treats others outside of his little circle.

Things are getting serious

Dear Editor,
The race to represent residents of 19th Middlesex District is off and running. Why do I know things are getting serious? From last week's letter to the editor, it is clear at least one local Republican is encouraging his circle to eat one of their young! Mr. Lingenfelter's curmudgeonly attack on young Mario Marchese's efforts to revitalize the Wilmington Republican Town Committee is case in point. Perhaps Mr. Lingenfelter is just trying to dissuade the younger dog from chasing cars out of some avuncular concern for Mario's health, but probably not. Republicans in Massachusetts are like mountain climbers, all roped together for an expedition. If one climbs too high above the others, they yank on the rope to pull the trailblazer back to the end of the line. Sad, but true. If the party of Lincoln is ever going to get to the mountain top, its got to develop a different attitude toward those who aspire to serve the people as Republicans - not as a RINO - "Republican In Name Only" - a quality Mr. Lingenfelter seems to admire in Democrats.

All politics are local and local politics are personal

Dear Editor,
I am writing in response to Mr. Lingenfelter's attack on Mario Marchese and his efforts to revitalize the Wilmington Republican Town Committee. While I cannot account for the past actions of the WRTC, why must you admonish people for deciding to become active who are trying to finally change politics in Massachusetts? It's no wonder the Republican Party has fallen apart over the years, with such people like Mr. Lingenfelter putting down Republican candidates who are finally standing up and willing to take a chance. Not only does he put down Republicans, he openly supports a Democratic incumbent! Why didn't Mr. Lingenfelter take a more active role in trying to revitalize the WRTC? Is he really sure that he is a Republican or is he just a RINO, Republican In Name Only? I know we have a DINO in town, but didn't know we had a RINO? Mr. Lingenfelter questioned where Mario has been in the past elections and why he has not been as fanatical as Mr. Lingenfelter has been. I can tell you that Mario has his priorities in the right place. He has focused on working hard over the last 13 years to build his career and raising his two children. I don't know about Mr. Lingenfelter, but in my book family always comes first. Mario has been quite active in volunteering his time to the Town of Wilmington. He has been a member of The Wilmington Conservation Commission since 2004 and just recently was elected to the Wilmington School Committee. I do not recall seeing Mr. Lingenfelter's name on the uncontested ballot in the Town election this past April. Anyone can be a complainer, but it takes real courage for someone to be a leader and step out into the public spotlight and fight for a real change and offer REAL SOLUTIONS. Is there more to the story that Mr. Lingenfelter does not want the people of Wilmington know? Has it sunken in yet, has Mr. Lingenfelter gotten the message yet? It is true that "all politics are local" but in Wilmington apparently local politics have become personal. Just for the record, during Columbus Day weekend, Mario was out going door-to-door and speaking with the citizens of Wilmington and Tewksbury. He was listening to their stories and letting them know why he is running for State Representative. Just as any other REAL candidate would do.

A great fire department

Dear Editor,
Many thanks to the EMT's who answered my recent call to Lifeline. They were efficient, pleasant, and concerned with my welfare.

The people of Wilmington are indeed fortunate to have these men and women working in the Fire Department.

Holiday Message to the Troops

REMINDER: We are running two nights that benefit the town organizations and our beloved troops.

Organization Night is Thursday, November 5, from 6:15-8:15 p.m. in the studio. We are inviting all non-profit organizations in Wilmington to come and speak with an interviewer for 10-15 minutes to tell what their organization does, who can join, when you meet, etc. In order to plan for this event, please call WCTV and sign up with Kristina for a specific time on Thursday, November 5.

In the Holiday Messages to the Troops we are inviting family members and friends of our Wilmington men and women in the services to come to the studio and give a message to their soldier. "Holiday Message to the Troops" will videotape on November 12, Thursday from 6:15-8:15 p.m. In order to plan for this event, please call WCTV and sign up with Kristina for a specific time on Thursday, November 12.

We look forward to having as many friends and family video a message for our soldiers on Nov. 12 and non-profit organizations participating in the Nov. 5 Organization Night.

Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library

Supporting your library is just a click away

WILMINGTON - Supporting your public library is now just a click away! As the busy holiday season approaches, the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library are offering you FOUR opportunities to raise funds for your library without even leaving your home. These online shopping fundraisers are a win-win, saving you time and money while benefiting one of your town's most widely used resources.

MagFundraising.com: Support the Wilmington Memorial Library this holiday season by purchasing (or renewing) magazine subscriptions. You'll receive an average discount of 85% off newsstand prices while up to 40% of your purchase will be donated to the Friends of the Library's Technology Fund. (Example: You purchase a year's subscription to Time. You pay $25 while saving 90% off the newsstand price of $252. The Friends earn $10, 40% of your sale!) Instructions can be found on the library's website - www.wilmingtonlibrary.org - under "Holiday Shopping For Your Library."

GoodShop.com: Support the Wilmington Memorial Library this holiday season by purchasing gifts online at more than 1,000 of your favorite stores. You'll be rewarded with hundreds of special deals and exclusive coupons while up to 30% of your purchase will be donated to the Friends of the Library's Technology Fund. (Example: Shopping for women's clothes? Take a look at nearly 175 stores, including JCPenny, Kohl's, L.L. Bean, and Macy's.) Instructions can be found on the library's website - www.wilmingtonlibrary.org - under "Holiday Shopping For Your Library."

iGive.com: Support the Wilmington Memorial Library this holiday season by purchasing gifts online at more than 750 of your favorite stores. You'll be rewarded with special deals and exclusive coupons while up to 25% of your purchase will be donated to the Friends of the Library's Technology Fund. A bonus $5 donation will also be collected each time a new supporter registers and makes a purchase. (Example: Shopping for men's clothes? Take a look at nearly 75 stores, including Aeropostale, Gap, Nordstrom, and Old Navy.) Instructions can be found on the library's website - www.wilmingtonlibrary.org - under "Holiday Shopping For Your Library."

Amazon.com: Support the Wilmington Memorial Library this holiday season by purchasing gifts online for co-workers at Amazon's 30 online departments. Shop for new and used books, DVD's, CD's and much more at America's largest online retailer. Up to 10% of each purchase will be donated to the Friends of the Library's Technology Fund. (Example: You buy one of this year's most popular items, Amazon's newest Kindle. The Friends receive $25.) Instructions can be found on the library's website - www.wilmingtonlibrary.org - under "Holiday Shopping For Your Library."

These fundraisers are part of "Holiday Shopping For Your Library," a series of shopping-themed fundraisers held this fall to benefit the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library's Technology Fund. "Holiday Shopping For Your Library" includes TEN opportunities for library supporters to purchase "gifts that give" - presents for family, friends, neighbors, and co-workers that also help the library.

"Holiday Shopping For Your Library" is organized by the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library, a well-respected local non-profit organization dedicated to raising funds and awareness for Wilmington's public library. For more information on the Friends, visit the library's website (www.wilmingtonlibrary.org) or find the group on Twitter and Facebook.

Your Two Cents...

A big thumbs up to the Wilmington Fire Department. Last week the Children's Corner School visited the fire department for a field trip. The visit was educational and informative for both the students and the parents. The firemen gave the children a tour of the station along with an explanation of the equipment. They made it lots of fun for the preschool children - while discussing important safety information. Thank you for an amazing job!

Wilmington

This is in regard to the Wilmington Pop Warner incident. Although I feel both men are at fault, Mr. VonKahle should have never made the comment he made towards Coach Reynolds, joking or not. But I do feel Coach Reynolds is more at fault, there was no reason for him to do any physical damage to Mr. VonKahle at all...that was totally uncalled for. There is no way Coach Reynolds should get away with what he did. Coach Reynolds may have gotten away with other incidents in the past. Think back a year ago, November 18 and 21, 2008. Hopefully he won't get away with this incident.

Book Store's changing hours

WILMINGTON - This week and the month of November are bringing some changes to the Friends of the Wilmington Memorial Library's Book Store Next Door. The Book Store will be closed Sundays, beginning November 1, and this week (October 28) was the last week for Wednesday evening hours.

From November on, unless otherwise announced, the hours will be Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. If you haven't yet visited, stop by - 183 Middlesex Avenue, next door to the Wilmington library.

Other change? Leslie Dietrich has resigned her position as bookstore manager and will, as of next week, only be writing one more of these little advertising segments for the followers of the book store's trends.

Darker days translate into more reading time and/or more projects. Stop by to pick up the best value for your dollars and enjoy the homey used bookstore feel of the first floor of this little historical house. If you are a Sci-Fi or fantasy buff, check out the last tamed frontier annex off the non-fiction room; also the home of hard cover Clancy & Cussler. Remember all your donations and purchases support the Wilmington Memorial Library.

Casa Santa Tecla

Open house on November 5

BILLERICA - Visit Casa Santa Tecla's open house and enjoy complimentary food and entertainment on November 5, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The stunning facility is located at 77 Dudley Road in Billerica.

Nestled on 134 acres of lush woodland beside the famous Concord River in Billerica, Massachusetts, Casa Santa Tecla adds a charming touch of old-world architecture to the rich landscape. Once part of the historic Stearns Farm (ca. 1700's), this extensive property became the novitiate seminary of the Maryknoll Missionaries following the Second World War. Here the Maryknoll priests prepared for their future missionary activities in Africa, Asia, and South America. The quaint original chapel, built by the Maryknolls themselves and dedicated to the brothers and priests who had served and died during the Second World War, is a beautiful blend of the original interior design along with recently added fine Italian marble.

Now the retreat house is owned by the Daughters of St. Paul, Roman Catholic Sisters, who have the mission of spreading the word of God through the media. The present structure was built in 1979. Named after the co-foundress of the congregation, Mother Tecla Merlo, Casa Santa Tecla conveys a sense of tranquility in its spacious cloister-style building and grounds. Flanked by a bell tower, the facade's veranda is supported by an elegant stone arcade leading to the main entrance. The spacious reception area is graced with arched doorways opening onto a picturesque courtyard, visible from every angle, making this a truly unique setting for any event: weddings, anniversaries, first communions, and for just about any other reason that people gather in celebration.

The large reception rooms can accommodate approximately 300 guests.

Zaino performing in Radio City Christmas Spectacular

NASHVILLE, TN - The holiday season is always special, but this year, it will be spectacular for a ten-year old grandson of a Wilmington family.

Christopher Zaino, of Londonderry, NH has been cast in the perennial favorite Radio City Christmas Spectacular, featuring the world-famous Radio City Rockettes. He will perform as part of the production at the Grand Ole Opry House in Nashville, Tenn. from November 20 through December 27.

Christopher, a fifth grader, auditioned for the role over the summer in New York City. He has been dancing at Melissa Hoffman Dance Center in Hudson, NH for the past 5 years, and enjoys singing and acting as well.

He is the son of John and Terry Zaino. John grew up in Wilmington, the son of Barbara Zaino and the late Arthur Zaino.

Ten-year-old Christopher is very excited to embark on this unique adventure. "I'm looking forward to having a great experience and meeting lots of new and interesting people, especially the Rockettes!" he said.

At the end of the month, Christopher will travel to Myrtle Beach, SC for rehearsals with the casts from all the Radio City Christmas Spectacular, and then on to Nashville in mid-November to perform. Christopher will be sharing the role with another boy and together they will be performing in over 60 shows.

The show includes scene after scene displaying the talents of the world's most famous precision dance troupe. It is a full-scale spectacle with a cast and crew of nearly 100 dedicated individuals.

While the Radio City Rockettes perform their fancy footwork and eye-high kicks in such showstoppers as "12 Days of Christmas," this magical production also features the perennial favorite "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and the awe-inspiring "Living Nativity." Teddy bears dance, wooden soldiers come to life and Santa, Mrs. Claus and the elves prepare for the biggest night of the year.

Richard A. Holman

A positive man known to his children's friends as "Dad"

WILMINGTON - Mr. Richard A. Holman, age 65, of Wilmington, died peacefully, Friday, October 23, 2009, at the Sawtelle Family Hospice House in Reading, with his family at his side.

Born on February 3, 1944, in Melrose, MA, Richard was the dear son of the late Robert and Cecile (Fredette) Holman.

Richard grew up in Wakefield, MA, and was a graduate of Wakefield High School. He went on to earn his Bachelor's Degree from Northeastern University in Boston.

Richard married Angela Penta on November 26, 1966, and they moved to Wilmington over 26 years ago to raise their children. Richard will be remembered by his family and friends as an incredible person who loved his family, especially his grandchildren who were his world, his dogs, and enjoyed NASCAR.

He was always there to lend a hand or an ear to a family member, friend or neighbor. He was always unbiased and never judgmental of others. Richard was a very positive person who saw the good in people and made the best of every situation. He was endearing to others and was known as "dad" to his children's friends. He had a great sense of humor. He would do whatever it took to take care of those he loved. Richard handled his illness the same way he handled his life by accepting his challenges, working hard to overcome them, always showing strength, dignity, and his concern for those around him, especially his family. Richard was adored by his family, friends, and neighbors, who will miss him dearly.

Richard is survived by his beloved wife Angela (Penta) Holman of Wilmington, he was the devoted father of Robert S. Holman & his wife Christine of Burlington and Debbie C. Marchese & her husband Victor of Wilmington, loving "Grampy" of Evan & Elise Holman and "Manty" of Celia Marchese, dear brother of Frances Vincent of Granby, CT and Marion Rector of Thomaston, ME.

Richard's Graveside Service will be held on Saturday, October 31, 2009, at 11:00 a.m. in the Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Memorial donations in Richard's name may be made to the Sawtelle Family Hospice House, 320 Haverhill St., Reading, MA 01867.

Jose M. "Mickey" Rivera

Retired from the City of Malden Fire Dept.

WILMINGTON - Mr. Jose M. Rivera, age 62, of Wilmington passed away suddenly, October 25, 2009. He was the beloved husband of Judy L. (Parsons) Rivera. Mr. Rivera was born in Coamo, Puerto Rico and was the son of the late Apolinar and Sixta Olga (Colon) Rivera.

Mr. Rivera, known as "Mickey" to his family and friends was raised and educated in Malden and was a graduate of Malden High School. He was retired from the City of Malden Fire Department where he last served as the Superintendent of Fire Alarm and worked for nearly thirty years. Mr. Rivera was also a United States Army Veteran honorably serving during the Vietnam War.

Together with his wife and children, they moved from Malden to Wilmington thirteen years ago.

Mostly devoted to his family, Mr. Rivera enjoyed being involved in his children's activities and in his leisure time he enjoyed playing golf with his friends, camping and traveling with his family.

In addition to his beloved wife Judy, Mr. Rivera is survived by his children, Paul Rivera- Illingsworth of New Hampshire, Justin and Jessica Rivera both of Wilmington. He is also survived by his sister, Gladys Rivera-Rogers of Malden, brother, Angel Rivera of Florida, father-in-law and mother-in-law, Maxwell and Virginia Parsons of Everett. He is further survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

Mr. Rivera's funeral services will be held from the Dello Russo - Cavanaugh Funeral Home, 374 Main St. Wilmington, Friday, October 30th, at 9:30 a.m. followed by a funeral mass celebrated in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave, Wilmington, at 10:30 a.m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend.

Visiting hours at the Dello Russo - Cavanaugh Funeral Home will be held on Thursday from 4 thru 8. Services will conclude with military honors and burial at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington.

It has been requested that in lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made in Mickey's memory to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 501 St. Jude Place, Memphis, TN 381051942

Richard F. Sullivan

Engineer worked at General Dynamics, Stone & Webster, and Metcalf Eddy

WILMINGTON - Mr. Richard F. Sullivan, age 80, of Wilmington, died Thursday, October 22, 2009, at the Wilmington Healthcare Center following a courageous battle with cancer.

Born on May 21, 1929, in Somerville, MA, Richard was the son of the late Jeremiah J. & Mabel C. (Lynch) Sullivan. Richard grew up in Somerville and was educated there. He enlisted in the United States Navy during WWII, serving in Maryland, Florida, and Pearl Harbor. He continued to serve the country during the Korean Conflict and was honorably discharged in May of 1949.

Following his discharge, Richard took a job at the Boston Naval Shipyard where he started as an electrician and worked his way up to an engineer. He also worked at General Dynamics, Stone & Webster, and Metcalf Eddy for many years prior to retiring.

Richard married Dorothy A. Murphy over 50 years ago and they moved to Wilmington in 1960 to raise their family. Richard was a member of the American Legion in Somerville and the Irish American Club in Billerica.

Richard will be fondly remembered by his family and friends as a hard worker, devoted husband and father, a loving grandfather, a good friend, and a proud American. He will be greatly missed.

Richard is survived by his beloved wife Dorothy A. (Murphy) Sullivan. He was the devoted father of Carol A. (Sullivan) Holden of Wilmington, Michael F. Sullivan & his wife Susan L. of Salem, NH, and Robert P. Sullivan of Lexington, loving grandfather of James W. Krystal L., & Courtney M. Holden, Michael P. Sullivan, and Kelsey T. & Meghan E. Sullivan, dear brother of Ann Mescall of Newton, MA, and the late John, Joseph, Paul, & Leo Sullivan, brother-in-law of William & the late Mary Murphy. Richard is also survived by many nieces, nephews, and dear friends.

Family & friends gathered at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington on Monday, October 26th at 9:00 a.m. followed by a Funeral Mass in St. Dorothy's Church, Main St., Wilmington at 10:00 a.m. Interment took place in Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington.

Memorial donations in Richard's name may be made to Local Heroes, Inc., P. O. Box 536, Wilmington, MA 01887.

Halloween Parade

On Friday, October 30, 2009 the Department of Elderly Services will be hosting a Halloween Parade with kids from the Brownie Troops at the Buzzell Senior Center from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Please join us as we give the kids some tricks or treats!!

These little kids will be proudly showing off their costumes!!!

"Wilmington Has Talent" Show

Wilmington Department of Elderly Services is very excited to announce its second variety show called "Wilmington Has Talent." Audrey Reed and David Landers are producing this live variety show to be performed on Sunday, November 8, 2009 at the Wilmington High School Auditorium at 2:00 p.m. All proceeds from the show will be going to our Wilmington High School

Scholarship Fund. A strong group of volunteers have come together to perform a show that will also include the Wilmington High School students and many senior residents. Tickets are on sale at the center - $5.00 per person. Come and enjoy the show while supporting the community.

Phone Call Scam

Are you receiving unwanted or questionable phone calls from telemarketers? Don't become a victim of "vishing." "Fraudulent telephone calls that use pirated recordings of telephone services from well-known financial institutions are known as vishing. The object is to trick you into believing your bank is calling to confirm personal information such as account numbers, PINs and passwords. Your answers are recorded and the information is then used for identity theft." (Information provided by the GSA Federal Citizen Information Center)

If you do receive a questionable call from someone who says they are with your bank and/or credit company and they ask you to provide or confirm any personal information:

- Do not answer any questions.
- Hang up immediately.
- Call your bank or credit company directly and tell them what happened.

Make sure you register your home and/or mobile phone on the DO-NOT-CALL registry at 888-382-1222; you can also file a complaint by calling this number as well.

Annual Thanksgiving Dinner

The Department of Elderly Services would like to give thanks in advance to the Wilmington/Tewksbury Elks for sponsoring the delicious and entertaining Annual Thanksgiving Dinner that will be held on Thursday, November 5, 2009. Tickets are free of charge and are available at the center if anyone is interested in joining in on the fun.

Eric Santullo of Tewksbury received a special and exciting phone call on Thursday, October 8. He was drawn as the winner of a 2010 Crystal Red Coupe Corvette in Bowling Green, Kentucky. Santullo had entered a fundraising raffle sponsored by the National Corvette Museum and his lucky ticket, number 432, was drawn.

Eric and wife, Lisa, picked up their new Corvette at the National Corvette Museum on Thursday, October 22, participating in the Museum's red carpet R&C Delivery Program. The program affords new Corvette owners a V.I.P. tour of not only the National Corvette Museum, but also the General Motors Corvette Assembly Plant located directly across the street. Eric enjoyed a ride down the Museum's indoor Corvette Boulevard and Victory Lane in his new prize before he and Lisa journeyed back to Tewksbury. Congratulations to the Santullos!

Tewksbury Library Notes

by Jen Hinderer

November events in the Children's Room

The weather may be turning colder but there's plenty to do with the kids at the library! To register for programs requiring sign up, just call the Children's desk at 978-640-4496 on the date indicated or try signing up online through our calendar, which you can access from our website at www.tewksburypl.org. If the program doesn't say registration is required, then just drop in. Don't forget the library is closed on Veterans Day on November 11th and on Thanksgiving Day on November 26th. The library is closing early on November 25th at 5:00pm.

Mother Goose Rhyme Time is the new name for our Mother Goose on the Loose program which incorporates music, movement, ritual, repetition, positive reinforcement, developmental tips, nursery rhymes, illustrations, puppets, musical instruments, colored scarves, and book reading into a fun-filled thirty minute session for children with their parent or caregiver. We only have Drop in sessions this month for ages 0 to 3 (up to age 4) Monday, November 2nd at 10:30am and Friday, November 13th at 10:30am. No registration is required for the drop ins. Older siblings are always welcome to come along!

Come try out Signing Story Time with Beebo for ages 0 to 3 on Monday, November 16th at 10:15am. With signs, even very young children can "tell" their caregivers that they just saw a caterpillar, that they hear a dog barking, or that a bird just flew away. They can let their caregivers know whether they are happy, sad, or even afraid. Join presenter Judi Cole and Beebo the bear as caregivers and children can learn some simple signs through stories and songs. This program is limited to 12 children. Registration is required and begins on November 10th. Call the Children's desk or register online to sign up.

Time for a Dance Party! Children ages 1 to 5 can come boogie down to the music of the Wiggles at our party. We'll learn the moves to each song and then dance up a storm. The Dance Party is on Thursday, November 12th at 11:00am. A ticket is required for admittance. Free tickets are available at the Children's desk beginning on November 2nd. Everyone coming into the room needs a ticket, including grown ups! Limit of 6 tickets per person. Sorry, tickets may not be held via phone or email.

Tiny Tykes Story Time for children ages 0 to 18 months is on Monday, November 9th and 23rd at 10:30am. No registration is required for this drop in program; simply come by and hear a story, sing songs and participate in some simple movement activities.

Wiggle Time is on hiatus this month! Look for classes to start again in December.

November's drop in Toddler Craft will be held on Friday, November 20th from 10:30am to 11:30am. Come by any time during the hour to make a Turkey Picture. No registration required and children ages 18 to 23 months are also welcome to join us. Please, no children ages 3 and up should attend expecting to make the craft.

Preschool Story Time for children ages 3 to 5 is on Tuesdays on November 3rd, 10th, 17th and 24th at 11:00am. No registration is required, just drop in to hear stories, sing songs and move!

Pajamarama Story Time for ages 3 to 6 is our evening to put on our pajamas, listen to stories, sing and dance! Join us on Tuesday, November 17th and Monday, November 30th at 7:00pm. Pajamas are optional, but we'll be wearing ours! No registration is required.

Try out our new Evening Story & Craft program for ages 3 to 6 on Wednesday, November 4th at 7:00pm. Come hear a story and then make a craft based on that story. No registration is required, just drop in!

We have two drop in Preschool Crafts in November. On Thursday, November 19th from 11:00am to 12:00pm, children ages 3 to 6 can make a Turkey Centerpiece. On Monday, November 30th, come make a Button Bug. No registration is required; simply drop in any time during the hour to make the craft. Please, no children under the age of 3 should come expecting to make the craft. One craft per child.

Come to Hockey Night at the library on Monday, November 2nd from 6:30pm to 7:30pm. We'll be making our own Hockey Game Boards and then everyone can play! We'll also be awarding the Bruins prizes that summer readers won this year for joining the summer reading club online at 7:00pm. The Hockey Game Boards are suitable for ages 5 and up to make. No registration is required, just come on down!

The Read to Me Book & Craft Club is where we all read the same book, then talk about it while snacking. Afterwards we make a craft based on the book! The Club is for kids in grades K to 3. On Wednesday, November 18th at 3:30pm, we'll be discussing Squanto and the First Thanksgiving. Register on November 10th for that group. Each group is limited to 15 kids. Pick up a copy of the book to read at the Children's desk before the group meets. Register online through our calendar or by calling the Children's desk.

Kids ages 6 to 12 can drop in to make a Totem Pole Craft on Tuesday, November 10th from 3:30pm to 4:30pm. No registration is required, just stop by any time during the hour. For more information on any of the above events, feel free to call Noelle or Amy in the Children's Room at 978-640-4496.

The MOM'S Club of Wilmington Annual Holiday Fair

WILMINGTON - Don't miss the Mom's Club of Wilmington's Annual Holiday Fair on Saturday, November 14, from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the United Methodist Church. Come by and get some of your holiday shopping done and support the organization's efforts to raise funds for the local holiday Adopt-a-Family Program.

The Fair will have local vendors of all kinds displaying and selling their products. And if you don't find exactly what you want, many vendors will accept orders too! Kids will have a photo opp with Santa (and other characters), as well as crafts and cookie decorating to keep them busy. Plenty of items will be raffled off. Kid's lunches and snacks will be available and baked goods items will be on sale.

If you are interested in sponsoring a table of your own or adding your marketing materials to the business sponsor tables, email the Mom's Club at MomsClubOfWilmington@yahoo.com. Sponsorship is open to the public after October 2nd.

To learn more about the organization, visit www.WilmingtonMomsClub.org.

Baby-sitting Cooperative

TEWKSBURY - The Tewksbury Baby-sitting Cooperative is currently looking for new families to join its membership. This is a non-profit organization in which local families swap baby-sitting services amongst each other for free. The Tewksbury Baby-sitting Cooperative has been in existence for over twenty years, during which time by-laws, leaderships, and a shared Yahoo group website have been created. Members host a monthly meet-and-greet to welcome potential families and to encourage new members and their children to become more familiar with each other.

While the membership is strong, the Cooperative is looking to grow it. This is a fantastic opportunity for busy Tewksbury families to get to know and help each other. To meet members and to learn more, please stop by for information anytime during the Open House at the Tewksbury Public Library on Monday, November 9, between 6-7:30 p.m. Light refreshments will be served.

In addition, the Upscale Consignment Boutique has received many fall items which you'll also want to check out. The consignment shop is open for on: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 12:00 to 3:00 p.m.; and, on Thursdays from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Don't miss out on the action.

Proceeds from both boutiques benefit the programs, activities and building maintenance of the Senior Center. Watch for details on the Boutiques' One Year Anniversary Celebration coming up on Monday, December 14th.

A pleasant week is wished to all. God Bless America.

Wilmington Congregational Church Fair

WILMINGTON - On Saturday, November 14, from the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., the Congregational Church in Wilmington will be hosting its annual Fall Holiday Fair. The Church has held this fair almost every year for over one hundred years. But this is a modern fair. All the crafts and other items for sale have been lovingly handmade by members of the Church.

Some of the items featured for sale will be needlework, jewelry, plants, holiday decorations and a country store. Once again baskets, a perennial favorite, will be available for sale. These are gift baskets packed with items for everyone you can think of: teens, new moms, or whatever. They are all beautifully put together ready to gift a loved one.

Again, the fair will feature a Children's Store. This is an area where only children are allowed. The items for sale in this area are things that children can buy to give as gifts to their parents, etc., or for themselves. Everything in this room is priced for a child's budget.

The country store will again feature home baked beans, cheese, potato salad and cole slaw along with baked goods of every description.

The luncheon will again feature Bob's chili served with corn muffins, corn chowder sausage subs, tuna and egg salad rolls. For desert, here will be homemade pies, similar to the ones on the baked table of the country store.

And don't forget the "white elephant" room. This is where the attic treasures for everyone can be found very inexpensively.

There will also be a silent auction where more expensive items and gift certicates from local merchants will be available for bid.

If you only get to one fair this fall, this is the one. But hopefully, you'll get to several and you will see that this is the best. Don't miss it.

HUB International is in the top ten of the Top Global Insurance Brokers list. The company is licensed in every state in the U.S. and every province in Canada, with over 250 offices and 4500 employees. Its corporate headquarters is in Chicago.

The company offers a wide array of insurance products, from personal lines right up through insurance for major industries.

Established in 1998, HUB International has made over 150 successful acquisitions of insurance agencies to date, giving it decades of experience and considerable expertise in arranging property and casualty, personal insurance and employee benefit programs for a wide variety of businesses and individuals.

As implied by its name, HUB operates with a system of hub offices. The Wilmington office at 299

Ballardvale Street serves as headquarters for HUB New England's 15 offices. The company came to Wilmington when it purchased the former McCarthy Companies in June of 2000.

With its decentralized approach, HUB offers a diversity of products and services. The company's size brings benefits of scale, with committed and experienced management. While global, its strength lies in its commitment to its local communities.

HUB New England offers industry specialization for auto dealers, bonding & construction, biotechnology, educational institutions, health-care, lodging & hospitality, manufacturers, marine, municipalities & public entities, non-profit & social services, private equity, real estate, restaurants and transportation.

Services include risk management, claims management, loss control, and administration and consultation on employee benefit plans.

Quilt Show News

Tewksbury Piecemakers Quilt Guild

TWEEKSBURY - The Tewksbury Piecemakers held its 21st annual quilt show the weekend of October 23, attracting an estimated 400 visitors. This year, the Quilt show was organized by Pam Gondola and Norma Biggins along with many volunteer Piecemakers members and friends.

Attendees were asked to cast their votes for the most outstanding quilts in four categories. First place winners in each category were: Large Quilt 1st place - Pam Gondola, Small Quilt 1st Place - Marlene Levesque, Hand Quilted 1st place - Jane Crane and the Cup Cake Quilt Challenge 1st place - Robin Murch. There was also a 2nd and 3rd place winner for each category.

The Piecemakers, established in 1990, is a nonprofit quilting Guild meeting the second Tuesday of the month, from September through June at the Tewksbury Senior Center. Its purpose is to provide the opportunity for the education, appreciation and advancement of the art of quilting, service and fellowship and sponsors various quilting events and field trips each year. The Guild also meets every Monday night at the Tewksbury Senior Center for charity projects - all are invited.

For information about the Guild please visit the Piecemakers' Web Site: www.tewksburypiecemakers.com.

Book Discussion for Ages 7 & Older

Judy Moody, M.D.: The Doctor Is In! by Megan McDonald

Friday, Nov. 6, 3:30 p.m.
Judy Moody has a mood for every occasion, and now, she, Judy Moody, is in a medical mood! It's no secret that Judy wants to be like Elizabeth Blackwell, first woman doctor, when she grows up, so when Class 3T starts to study the Amazing Human Body, Judy can hardly wait to begin her better-than-best-ever third-grade projects; show-and-tell with something way rarer than a scab, a real-live ooey-goey operation, and a cloning experiment that may create double trouble for Judy and her friends. RARE! Discover Judy Moody's exciting experiments when you read Megan McDonald's Judy Moody, M.D.: The Doctor Is In! Copies of the book may be reserved by visiting or calling the Children's Room. Drop-in for the discussion. A door prize and snack will be provided by the Friends of the Library.

Preschool Sing-Along with Joanie Walsh

Monday, Nov. 9, 10 a.m.
Registration begins Thursday, October 29
Preschoolers and their caregivers are invited to join Joanie Walsh of The Children's Theatre Workshop of Wilmington as she leads the group in singing and moving to the beat of many well-loved songs. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

Children's Movie Night "Up"

Tuesday, Nov. 10, 6:30 p.m.
Drop-in to watch the movie "Up." Bring something comfortable to sit on, if desired. Free popcorn and lemonade will be served. Rated: PG.

Stampin' Up! with Karen Mirabito

Thurs., Nov. 12, 3:30-5 p.m.
Registration begins Thursday, October 29
A rubber stamp workshop for kids ages 9 & older will be presented by Wilmington's Karen Mirabito. Materials to create two original stamped greeting cards as well as instruction will be provided free of charge. Space is limited. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

Book Discussion for Ages 9 & Older

Lost and Found by Andrew Clements

Friday, Nov. 13, 3:30 p.m.
In Lost and Found by Andrew Clements, twelve-year-old identical twins Jay and Ray have long resented that everyone treats them as one person, and so they hatch a plot to take advantage of a clerical error at their new school and pretend that they are just one. Drop-in for the informal discussion. Copies of the book may be reserved by visiting or calling the Children's Room. A door prize and snack will be provided by the Friends of the Library.

Middlesex Canal Association presents...

When Boston was cut in two

BILLERICA - The Fall Meeting of the Middlesex Canal Association (MCA) will be held on Sunday, November 8 at 2:00 p.m. in the Middlesex Canal Museum and Visitor Center at 71 Faulkner Rd in North Billerica, MA.

Brief Introduction: David Dettinger, a Director of the MCA, and author of the definitive study of the Canal extension in Boston will draw attention to the fact that the Canal extension bisected Boston from 1810 to 1830.

The Middlesex Canal (1803-1853), dug by hand from the Merrimack River at Lowell to the Charles River at Charlestown during the second term of George Washington's presidency, played a major role in the development of Boston. Boats were drawn by horse to the Charles River. There they were pulled by chain across the Charles River to the northern inlet of the scalloped peninsula that was Boston, across the canal and down Mill Creek to the long wharfs of the Boston Harbor.

Duane Lucia, President of the West End Civic Association and an aficionado of Charles Bulfinch will be the main speaker. Mr. Lucia will portray Bulfinch, not only as one of Boston's greatest architects, but also as the person solely responsible for putting the proper in Bostonian." He designed some of Boston's most notable buildings (State Capital, Massachusetts General Hospital, Harrison Grey Otis etc.) and laid out a plan that led to the filling in of the Boston Mill Pond creating the Bulfinch Triangle. Here the Canal bisected the Boston Peninsula at Canal Street on its way to Haymarket Square and the shores of the Atlantic.

A tribute to the Middlesex Canal is planned at the end of Canal Street by the Hines Raymond LLC when construction begins on their new building. The current recession has delayed their progress.

In the lobby of the newly constructed Raymond Property Company building at 53-85 Canal Street is a framed copy of the definitive map of the Middlesex Canal as prepared by Col. Wilbur M. Hoxie. This was prepared for the acceptance of the Middlesex Canal into the National Registry of Historic Places.

Please join in for a delightful afternoon. Phone 978-670-2740 or visit www.middlesexcanal.org for additional information. Handicapped accessible. Free.

The world from the top Wilmington Scouts hike Mt. Chocorua

WILMINGTON - The weekend of October 16-18, the scouts from Troop 56 and the Webelos from Packs 56, 136 and 361 went camping to the Bear River Camp Campground in West Ossipee, NH. There were 27 boys and 16 adults who braved the cold.

They arrived late Friday night and set up their tents in the dark. Saturday morning they finished preparing the camp with the dining canopies and setting up the individual patrol boxes in preparation for breakfast. After breakfast they packed lunches, strapped on their backpacks and started their hike up Mt. Chocorua.

The hike was 8.8 miles start to finish, 3480 ft., and took some longer than others to complete the climb. The skies were perfectly clear permitting awesome views for as far as the eye could see. The sights were breathtaking; including a snow capped Mt. Washington.

After the hike the scouts returned to the campsite to prepare for dinner. Each patrol, consisting of approximately seven Boy Scouts and three Webelos, prepared their own meals. After dinner, the owner of the camp treated the boys to ice cream sundaes and milk shakes. After dinner there was a game of capture the flag and some card games played. Sunday consisted of breaking camp after breakfast and setting off back to Wilmington.

fair, they never hesitated and still wanted to do it. Yes, they will be tired, but they are a great group of girls and enjoying helping others," said Mills.

The Department's Holiday Craft Fair is a handcraft-only event. Items included range from jewelry to cards and even lawn ornaments. About twenty tables have currently been reserved for vendors. The profits of the fair go directly towards programs run by the senior center, helping to make trips and programs more affordable.

Marciello was eager to express her gratitude for the girls' willingness to participate in this unique endeavor: "The public needs to know there are kids like this."

Treats for Troops on Halloween

locate collection bins in the lobby of the four schools where parents can bring in donations between 3:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. from now through next Monday. Volunteers will man the bins as the School District maintains a policy prohibiting the sharing and distribution of outside food with the schools due to severe food allergies.

Wentworth also placed a bin at Town Hall to collect not only extra candy, but also any other donations to soldiers. Local Heroes publishes a list of the most requested items our soldiers want and need such as baby wipes, beef jerky, Twizzlers (the most requested candy), powdered drink mixes, cup-a-soup, coffee and tea, and much more. Residents are invited to bring their donations to the Town Hall bin.

The large cardboard boxes used to collect donations were graciously donated by Hansen Bechat, of Neighborhood Parcel on Main Street in Tewksbury.

"I'm happy to help out the troops," Bechat said.

Wentworth will collect the school donation bins next week and the Town Hall bin the following week and take them to the Wednesday Night Local Heroes meeting at the Wilmington Knights of Columbus. Each week the organization packs boxes up for local servicemen and women and their families. To date, Local Heroes has sent out in excess of 9,741 packages.

"I appreciate Mrs. Wentworth's drive and all the kids donating, that's how we've been able to do what we've done every week for five years," said Wilmington Veteran's Agent and Local Heroes Founder Lou Cimaglia. Cimaglia also acknowledged the generous gift of 19 packages donated recently by students from the Dewing Elementary School.

Next week Local Heroes will celebrate its fifth anniversary with a major fundraiser to help defray the shipping costs associated with the packages, averaging $600 - $1,000 per week. The event will be held at the Tewksbury Knights of Columbus and will feature many raffles, a silent auction and a 50/50 as well as live music from the Full Turn Band. It will all happen on November 7, beginning at 7:00 p.m. for just a $20 donation.

For Sgt. Sullivan, care packages are more than just a little comfort from home. "It helps us over there, that people over here still care about us. I support the care packages 100 percent," Sullivan said.

Sgt. Sullivan served two tours, one in 2004 in Nasiriyah and the second in 2006 in Fallujah. The IED that detonated under his Humvee nearly killed him; leaving him in a coma for several days and bringing him back home where he spent a year in Walter Reed Army Medical Center with a Traumatic Brain Injury. He has since moved back to Wilmington and continues to undergo speech, physical and occupational therapy and will be returning to Walter Reed for further treatment soon.

Join Wilmington Recreation for a trip to Foxwoods!

WILMINGTON - Don't miss the final Foxwoods day trip of 2009! Participants will travel by motorcoach to Foxwoods on Tuesday, November 24. This trip includes motorcoach transportation, and casino incentives, which may include a buffet lunch coupon. Each participant will select their seat on the motorcoach at the time of registration. The motorcoach will leave from and return to the lower Library parking lot at 51 Wildwood Street. Cost is $25 per person.

Pre-registration with payment is required in order to secure a seat on the motorcoach. To register for this or other Recreation Department programs stop by Town Hall, Room 8. For more information, call (978) 658-4270.

Boards split on vacancy

sue the vacancy left from the State.

"They both seem interested and capable. I had no problem or concern about either one," said Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Mike Newhouse, who also noted that Murphy has been a volunteer at Deming Way for years. "I have to give some weight to Stacie Murphy because she expressed an interest a while ago and has been diligent in pursuing that interest for some time now."

Both the Board of Selectmen and the Housing Authority cast votes to fill the seat, but the two boards split their votes in this instance. The Housing Authority unanimously supported Mazzocca while the Selectmen unanimously supported Murphy. Simple majority prevails, and Murphy won the seat.

Murphy's appointment is good until the next election in April 2010 when she will have to run for election to retain the seat.

Further, Chair of the Housing Authority, Bob DiPasquale announced to a surprised board and Town Manager that the director of the authority, Theresa Georgopoulos, is leaving for a position in Dracut.

A call to Georgopoulos was not returned Tuesday. Georgopoulos was appointed her position in January 2007 for a three-year contract, having previously held the position with a one-year contract. The 2007 contract expires in January.

Some 'positive' points to help Pop Warner League recover

By RICK COOKE
Sports Correspondent

The headline practically screamed off the front page one week ago - 'A sad day for Wilmington-adults in fisticuffs at Wilmington Pop Warner football practice.' It could have been so much worse.

Nine years ago, Thomas Junta of Reading should have kept his mouth shut and walked away before he beat volunteer hockey coach Michael Costin to death. The dead man was giving of his time, helping to referee a pick-up hockey game involving both men's sons. The fight was witnessed by about a dozen youngsters, including Junta's son and Costin's three boys. Junta got lucky in that the jury decided to go with involuntary manslaughter and the judge slapped him with six to 10 years-twice the suggested Massachusetts sentence for this conviction. For Thomas Junta, it should only get worse. For instead of a role model for his kids, he is nothing but someone with a nice criminal record. The people involved in the Wilmington incident also got lucky. No one died.

Here is where the rubber meets the road. The Wilmington dad and the coach involved chose to settle their differences in the manner that sets a bad example for young athletes. The incident behind the snack shack at the Robert Palmer Field could have been avoided with some common sense and the willingness by both men to check their egos somewhere at that field's 50 yard line. Better yet guys, bury this nonsense at the 50, because now all you did was put some 12-year-old right in the middle of a no-win situation. Everybody loses here-but the young people and the adults of the Wilmington Pop Warner program still have a shot at recovering and turning this mess into a learning experience.

Thankfully, no one died-but that doesn't mean that everybody should pick up the pieces and just play the games as if nothing happened. Don't look now Wilmington, but this ugliness has garnered national attention-and the Pop Warner people can't be very happy that two guys painted an ugly picture- and sent a snapshot that you made the program look bad in the process. Criminal charges be damned- they are likely to go nowhere, since it is unclear who threw the first punch. All of that doesn't matter. What does matter is that parents and coaches should be role models-not athletes, rock stars or the best and biggest bully on the block.

The people involved in this mess failed these kids, and the he said-she said counter charges aren't going to change the fact that young athletes need someone 'local' to count on and look up to. Tom Brady doesn't tuck your kid in at night, and Big Papi isn't going to show up to drive little Johnny to practice. Parents should parent and coaches should coach-and it's when those lines get blurred that people run into trouble. Just ask Thomas Junta. I'm sure that he loved his kids so blindly that he was willing to risk a lot to get a little in return. Now, he gets to think about the consequences of his actions for the rest of his life.

These incidents often happen when the parents live their lives vicariously through their children and coaches think they can implement high school or college coaching techniques with a bunch of 12-year olds. The parents think the kid is headed to play football at Notre Dame. The coach thinks he's Bill Belichick. The kids wonder what the heck is going on- 'I thought we were here to maybe win some games and have a little fun.' In all of this, some perspective on just what's important goes right out the window.

The Wilmington incident managed to make a website take notice that could provide the adults with some answers and keep the young athletes from getting stuck in the middle. It's called 'Positive Coaching Alliance'- and the goals are aimed at teaching and coping-all that stuff that comes with learning some life skills while playing a sport.

The organization was founded at Stanford University in 1998 and one of the best goals on the site is the one that says: 'prepare young athletes from pre-school through high school for success in life on and off the playing fields, emphasizing character-education and life lessons through sports'.

There is a goal that is not all that earth shattering. It begins with a message that is too often forgotten as leagues hand out uniforms, keeps scores and monitors just who brings and sells the Gatorade at the games. This one says: 'to give the athletes a better experience and more fun playing.' Gee, what a novel idea-kids having fun. It shouldn't take a seminar to figure that one out.

There were also plenty of opinions on the 'Positive Coaching Alliance' website. They are interesting and worth noting in that these are parents who of course love their kids. They are also willing to reach out with words and logic at a time when Wilmington Pop Warner parents and coaches should be all ears. Two of you messed

Wildcats toss defending state finalists aside

For the second time since joining the Cape Ann League back in the fall of 1995, the Wilmington High School Boys' Soccer team defeated Masconomet, this time at home as the Wildcats truly dominated with a 3-0 victory played under the lights on Thursday.

Two years ago, the Wildcats dumped the Chieftains for the first time in program history, and last year the teams tied in the first meeting, before Masco eliminated the Wildcats in the Division 2 North sectional semi-finals, 1-0 in overtime.

Last Thursday, Masco came into the game unbeaten, and had not been scored upon in its previous five games. That all changed as the Wildcats took a 2-0 halftime lead before cruising the rest of the way with the victory.

That win, along with the team's 1-0 shut out victory over Triton Regional on Monday, puts the team's record to 9-0-3 in the league and 11-0-3 overall.

Wilmington is currently in first place of the Cape Ann League standings and has one game left against Amesbury. North Andover trails Wilmington by a point

Aubrey Ungvarsky tops at Sectionals

Female drives past the boys

By JAMIE POTE

NORTH READING -- On the final shot of her very impressive high school career, Aubrey Ungvarsky sank a long putt to finish with a par on the tough 18th hole, and that smile couldn't have been wiped off her face even with an eraser.

The senior -- and only one of two females to compete -- finished with a team high score of 77, just eight strokes over par, and finished in a tie for seventh place out of 81 individuals, just missing the cut to advance another week, during Monday's Division 2 North sectional golf tournament held at Wilmington's home course over at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading.

Ungvarsky played very consistently throughout the day and through all 18 holes. She didn't record a birdie, but ended up with all pars, except one bogey and two double bogeys, on her way to a solid 77 score, falling just six strokes behind becoming the individual champion and falling one stroke behind of advancing to Monday's Division 2 state match which will be held at the Blackstone National Golf Course in Sutton, Mass.

"A 77 from Aubrey is just off the charts," said head coach Steve Lynch. "I'm very proud of her and I know she was very proud of herself."

And she was - and she certainly should be. She finished with the best score out of the foursome she was paired with, beating out three boys, including one by 22 strokes. Over the last four holes, she beautifully attacked the fairways with straight long drives, before finishing up with solid chip shots and putts, including the last one on 18.

Good Fortunes continue for Rogers, and team

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's been quite the ten-months athletically for Wilmington High senior Caleb Rogers. And last Thursday night, the good fortunes continued as the senior striker helped the Wildcats boys soccer team prevail with a 3-0 win over Masconomet played at Alumni Field.

It was just 11 months ago when Rogers was part of the Wildcats team that saw Masconomet celebrate on the midfield of Reading High School after defeating Wilmington, 1-0 in overtime during a Division 2 North sectional semi-final match-up.

After winning that game, Masco advanced to the Division 2 state final, losing to Mount Greylock Regional, 3-2. The Chieftains started this season off again on fire coming into Thursday's game with an 12-0-1 record, before Rogers and company dumped the team into third place of the current Cape Ann League standings. Wilmington has yet to lose a game since that playoff loss, and currently stand in first place with an 11-0-3 overall record and 9-0-3 in the league.

Rogers, one of the team's three captains -- who was also a member of the Division 3 state champion 4x400 relay team in the winter -- helped set up the team's first goal on Thursday, before watching his offensive buddies add two more and his defensive pals play terrific, helping the team post its eighth shut out of the season at that time.

Knowing his team got pay back, Rogers sat on the Wildcat bench after the game, knowing the entire team really put forth a terrific game plan and executed it to perfection to come away with the program's second win ever against Masco, since joining the Cape Ann League back in 1995.

"This is a huge win for us, especially to beat them 3-0 because I expected a 1-0 game," said Rogers. "We didn't forget about last year's loss. Masco is always a big game for us."

"We just really focused more today, and we got to them early and I think we realized then that we could play with these kids. After we scored that first goal, we knew we could take them. I don't think Masco has played behind (in the score) much at all this year."

After finishing with an 15-2-4 record last year, the Wildcats had to figure out how the team was going to replace all-conference forward Jason Pereira who had 19 goals last fall. One solution was to take Rogers, a midfielder, and move him up front and that has worked out beautifully. The senior is currently tied with teammate Andy Owens for fifth in the league in goals with nine each.

"Caleb is a real good, all-around player," said head coach Steve Scanlon. "He's got good skills, good speed, great endurance, he can defend, he can play midfield and he's a real versatile player. He's strong and he's just a real good kid. The kids have a lot of respect for him and he's just one of those kids you want on your

Girls team remains iced cold against Vikings

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

When the final whistle blew for the end of the game, the members of the Wilmington High School girls soccer team, especially the seniors, had a real hard time grasping what had just happened. On Monday night the team was officially eliminated from state tournament play after losing to Triton Regional, 1-0 at home, and putting the team's record to 3-7-6 overall. Although there's two games left in the season, regardless of the outcomes, the team will fall short of the required 18 points to enter the post season.

The tears and hugs were plenty and there wasn't much noise at all coming from the Wilmington bench area. Things were very quiet, and that's very unfortunate - not just because the team didn't make it, but because this is a very talented team, that simply put fell short.

"I have been just so proud of this team and how they have played all season long against some very, very good teams," said head coach Sue Hendee. "It's just really hard to understand the results of the season ... it really, really is. I have seen this soccer team play the best soccer this program has seen in at least four or five years."

From 2002 to 2008, the Wildcat program combined for a 68-51-22 record, which included two league titles and seven straight state tournament appearances. This will be the first time since 2001 that the team will not be playing in November.

If you look at the team's record this season, it surely doesn't indicate the team's play. Wilmington is 3-7-6 but have outscored their opponents 22-19, but have been shut out in six of the team's last eight games. The problem was scoring, as Wilmington just could never generate enough offense, or finish off its scoring chances. Wilmington faced ten teams in the league with a record of .500 or better. Those teams have a combined record of 75-34-29. Wilmington played 12 games against those ten teams, and finished 0-6-4 including losing five of the six games by one goal, and ending with one 1-1 tie and three scoreless ties (so really those teams are 75-28-25 against the rest of the league).

In each of the past three seasons the Wildcats have scored 35, 31 and 36 goals respectively, but have given up 34, 30 and 27, a much greater number than the 19 through 16 games this season. Actually it's the least amount of goals the team has given up since 2003, when the Wildcats gave up 17, in its league title season which included a first round state tournament victory.

Throughout the second half of the season, Hendee tried all sorts of things to generate more offense or to have the players finish their chances and it goals just didn't happen. Heading into Monday night's game, Wilmington needed to win its final three games in order to get into the tournament with the Devil outcome of 6-6-6. That didn't happen as frankly the team played very lackluster from the beginning.

But this one game doesn't and shouldn't take away the season the team had, because the 2009 season was good - just the numbers in the win column doesn't back that statement up.

"We couldn't get anything going," said Hendee about Monday's loss. "I tried moving people all over the place but there was (no flow to our game) at all. We just didn't play well tonight. And it's unfortunate because we have played so well in so many other games and just came up short, and they always kept their heads in the game, they were always confident, and to be honest I just don't know what happened. You're not going to win a game with one shot - I mean you could but (that's besides the point)."

Giving up just over a goal a game is pretty impressive - and ending in ties against tremendous teams such as North Andover, Newburyport and North Reading, proves that the team could play with anyone - just goals didn't happen and that's a part of any game whether it be soccer, hockey or whatever the sport may be.

"I just watched the Newburyport game on film over the weekend and we dominated that game," said Hendee. "I don't think they even got a shot on net in the second half. Ipswich is another one, North Reading we tied and they are on top of their league."

Newburyport is the defending Division 3 state champions, while teams such as Masco, North Andover and Lynnfield all had long rides in last year's post-season as well.

Correction

In last week's edition, the Town Crier did 10 Questions with volunteer coach Mary Armata. In her responses she mentioned her father, and for some odd reason, the Sports Editor inserted a wrong name into her response calling her father Tony, when indeed his name is Andy Armata. My apologies, Andy.

and has two games left with Newburyport and Masco, while Masco trails by two points and has Pentucket and North Andover remaining.

If Wilmington defeats Amesbury, the only way the Wildcats will not get at least a share of the title is if North Andover wins both of its games.

Otherwise, Wilmington could end up with a share of the title with either North Andover and Masco, depending on the outcome of their game scheduled for Friday afternoon (head-to-head contests don't matter if the teams have the same amount of points).

Masco managed just three shots on net throughout Thursday's contest, which says a lot about the Wildcats' defense considering Masco scored two or more goals in seven of its previous eight games.

"This is a great win for us, and for the program. (Masco) always gives us fits," said Wildcat head coach Steve Scanlon. "This is a big win and I thought we played really good defensively. I thought everyone was good, really. We pounced on our (scoring) chances, we scored early, and I think we're a pretty athletic team so what we may lack in skill - they may have a slight advantage over us in skill but not much just the one touch stuff - (we make up for it as) I think we're a little bit more athletic. It's a great win for us, it really is and the kids played great."

Wilmington netminder Marty Bamberg made one terrific tip save with his right hand coming late in the first half, but besides that he wasn't tested much as his defense, led by Gott Saenchandi, Colin Foley, Jimmy Mara and company, really limited Masconomet's ability to create any legitimate chances.

"Marty made some big saves, and the defense was solid," said Scanlon. "They cleared (the ball) when they had to, they contained when they had to, and it was what we talked about. I thought they handled themselves very well. Marra was a warrior out there playing on one leg basically."

In the 22nd minute of the game, Wilmington got on the scoreboard first starting with a throw in from Nick Godzyk, who played terrific and who figured in all three goals. He took a throw-in from the right sideline over midfield. The ball was sent in and after he banked off a few legs, Caleb Rogers picked the ball out and gave a pass to Andy Owens. He corralled the ball, before beating a defender and putting a shot inside the right hand corner for what turned out to be the game winning tally.

With just under three minutes to go in the half, Godzyk gave a gorgeous heads up pass down the left side line to Michael Murphy, who came in from the left hand side and found a hole to the far far corner making it 2-0.

In the 11th minute of the second half, the Wildcats polished off their scoring and the game as Murphy's long throw-in went right to Godzyk, who flicked a shot past the keeper making it 3-0.

On Monday the two combined for yet another goal with Murphy setting up Godzyk, who scored the game's lone goal in the 1-0 win over Triton.

Murphy currently leads the entire Cape Ann League with 13 assists, and Godzyk is tied for third in the league with six helpers.

Good Fortunes continue for Rogers, team team."

Not only because he's scoring goals, but Rogers has improved on the soccer field in many areas, and Scanlon quickly pointed out the reasons for that.

"He's improved because of his strength - I mean he's a big strong kid who never stops working," said Scanlon. "He has that engine that never stops. He can play at a really high clip, and you could have him out there for the full 80 minutes if you needed too. He's just been a real good player for us."

Rogers didn't play all 80 minutes of Thursday's game, coming out several times for a breather. But he was on the field helping the team get an early lead. In the 22nd minute of the first half, he was able to get a foot on a loose ball after it was throw in by Michael Murphy, and Rogers sent a short pass to Owens, who was able to bury the ball home for what turned out to be the game winning tally.

"We have a lot of really good forwards so it really wasn't that tough of a transition (from midfield to forward) - Owens is great and (Chris) DiCecca and (Nick) Godzyk play really well together and they all have great chemistry so it makes it a lot easier for me," said Rogers.

Rogers said that lately he has been struggling a bit converting on his scoring chances. That he said comes with experience, but for the most part this season, his ability to create offense and finish his chances at least nine times has been a big reason for the team's continued success.

"I have my on and off days when it comes to (being able to finish)," he said. "But sometimes, yeah it's tough to finish."

Although he may have missed some chances, Rogers knows that he's not all by himself - he has plenty of help

Female drives past the boys

"That was great to end the season with that shot," she said.

After finishing that hole and her round of golf, Ungvarsky found out that her teammates did exceptionally well. Fellow senior Nick Boutoures shot a 78, while Andrew Spurr and John Keough each finished with an 80, followed by Tyler Strem at 82 and Dalton Rolli at 84.

Wilmington finished just two strokes behind Reading for third place, which eliminated the team from further competition.

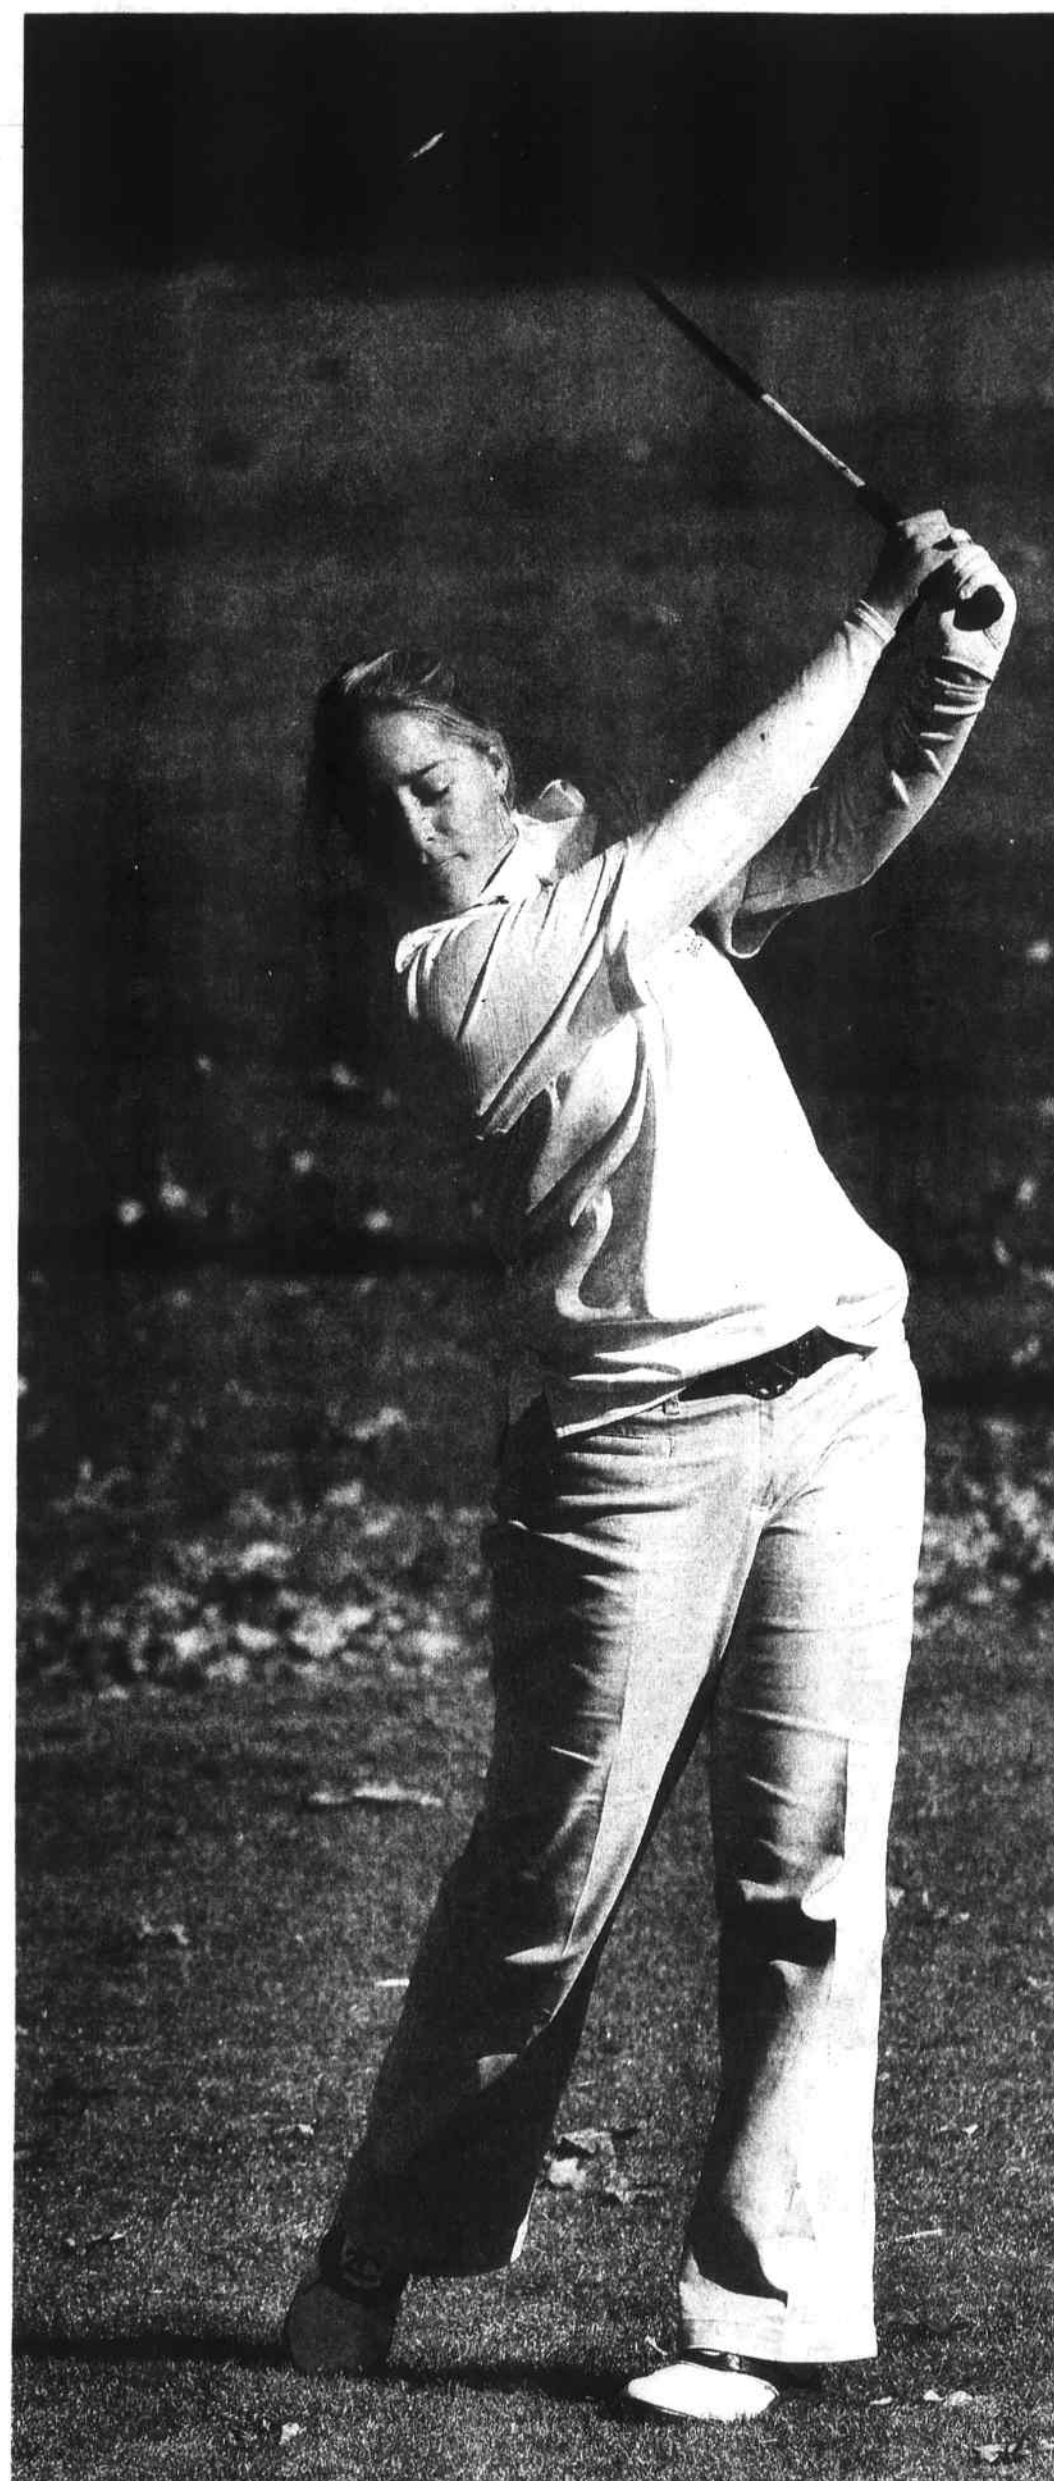

"I thought the team did great - a lot better than how we normally play," said Ungvarsky. "I thought the whole day was just awesome. We had to throw out an 82 (score) and that just says how well we all did."

Although she was bummed out that the team didn't advance, it didn't stop Ungvarsky stating just how well her teammates did and just how proud the entire program should be after this tremendous showing.

"If we made it it would have been great, but I think what we did today was really awesome," she said. "I think it's a great way to end the season."

Aubrey comes from a golf family and constantly is playing and working on her game. Her uncle, Joe Sindelar, is on the PGA Tour, and her brothers, Aaron, Zach and Jordan, all played for WHS, and the first two were part of the team's Division 3 state championship back in 1999, as well as countless number of other impressive team and individual accomplishments.

"She comes from good stock," said Lynch referring to her family's background. "She's very disciplined, she is very even keeled and she has the same swing every single time I've seen her the last three years. She deserves this - she played great so good for her. I hope she realizes that she had a phenomenal round of golf today.

And she did it against 79 boys, only 12 finishing better than she did.

"Nope (playing against boys has) never bothered me - it's good competition," she said.

That competition drive certainly made Ungvarsky -- who has hopes of playing at the collegiate level -- play tremendous golf on this day.

"I really surprised myself with a 77 and I'm really proud of that," she said. "I had a lot of up-and-downs. I didn't have any birdies unfortunately, but I had all pars, a bogey and two double bogeys. I'm just very happy with how everything went today."

Golfers chip in to take fourth at Div. 2 Sectionals

NORTH READING -- Standing around and waiting for tournament officials to record the individual and team scores, it seemed like the Wilmington High School golf team pulled out the inevitable placing within one of the top three teams to advance to this Monday's state championship match. But then the last team to have its scores recorded was league rival Masco, who were seven shots ahead of Wilmington, and pushed Reading to third overall and bumped the Wildcats from advancing and ended their season.

Wilmington -- which was moved up to Division 2 this season and wasn't notified until mid last week about the change -- finished fourth overall out of the 13-team tournament. Each team has six golfers and the top four scores are taken and added up, and Concord-Carlisle won the Division 2 North sectional crown with a score of 307, followed by Masco at 308, Reading at 313 and then Wilmington at 315.

Dracut and Marblehead tied for fifth with a score of 316, followed by North Andover (318), Pentucket (319), Beverly (320), Burlington (322), Gloucester (329), Lincoln-Sudbury (331) and Tewksbury (338) to round out the 13 teams.

This was the team's first appearance at the sectional tournament since 2005, as the Wildcats finished 7-4 during the regular season against Cape Ann League teams.

"The kids knew they were a pretty good team but I think they even surprised themselves with how well they did today," said head coach Steve Lynch. "It's tough to have it come down to the last couple of groups and one moment the (Wilmington kids) thought they were in (the top three) and then the next moment we find out we're not in."

But that didn't stop Lynch from talking about the tremendous performances given out by each one of his six golfers. Seniors Aubrey Ungvarsky and Nick Boutoures led the way with respective scores of 77 and 78, falling eight and nine strokes from finishing at par of 69. Both of them fell one and two strokes short of advancing as one of the top eight individuals to next week's state meet which will be held at the Blackstone National Golf Course in Sutton, Mass.

Besides the 1-2 punch, junior Andrew Spurr and sophomore John Keough finished with the same 80 score, while Tyler Strem was right there at 82, another sophomore Dalton Rossi also did quite well finishing with an 84, falling 15 strokes behind par, an incredible accomplishment for the tenth grader.

Lynch admitted that having the team play on its home course certainly helped, but was quite proud of how the team competed against some schools with a rich tradition of golf.

"Collectively we played great," said Lynch. "A 77 from Aubrey is just off the charts. (Then) Nick Boutoures shot a 78 and played really well, so a little home cooking didn't hurt as the kids are really familiar with the course. I know it stings falling two shots short, and Aubrey came one stroke short out of the running for the individuals. And I know it hurts them right now, but when they look back with a 77, 78, a couple of guys shot an 80 and another 82, they will realize just how fantastic that is."

"Andrew Spurr is taking things hard. He shot a 45 (on the front) and a 35 (on the back) so to hear him say that it's his fault was tough because that's not the case at all. Golf is a game of one or two strokes here or there, but I don't think anyone on this team would have predicted that they would have the type of day they had. I think when the kids look back they will realize that the season ended on a very positive note."

The team will lose four seniors from this year's team with Ungvarsky and Boutoures, as well as Pat Boudreau and Pat Enwright.

"Aubrey and Nick will be pretty tough to replace but I think I have a pretty good base of kids coming back," said Lynch. "I kept 18 kids this year and we seem to have a lot of kids with potential so I think we have a good base for next year as we will be looking for Spurr and Strem to lead us. And we also had two pretty good sophomores who played today in John Keough and Dalton Rossi so next year our top four or five should be pretty seasoned."

Lynch went out of his way to show how grateful he is to Chris Carter, the pro at the Hillview Country Club, who he said was tremendous to the program once again.

"Chris Carter was very good to us here and I can't thank him enough," said Lynch.

Some positive points to help Pop Warner up big time, and it says here that that means two people too many. Zero tolerance might be a good idea. Here are some points of view made available here that might help get the league pointed back in the right direction.

"Like other endeavors in life, youth league coaching requires a measure of good old common sense. Coaching clinics may not teach adults common sense, but life does. Now, the Wilmington boy is probably angry at the father, the father is probably angry at the boy, and both are angry at the coach. The other parents probably realize that their child could easily have been on the receiving end of the coach's punishment. How long did it likely take for the team's other 12-year-olds to figure out that punishing a player because his father drove him to practice ten minutes late is unfair to the player? Parents these days have many demands on their time (including uncontrollable events such as traffic jams) and coaches need to use a rule of reason and cut parents some slack in matters such as on-time performance."-Doug Abrams.

"Pop Warner in many places is very far removed from being a youth-centered sports league. My own son begged me to allow him to quit after three games. I normally discourage this, but being on this particular team was making him miserable. This is a 10-11-year old league and the treatment of these children mirrors more about what these coaches see on TV, than any attempt at age appropriate game and practice play. It is long past the time when youth sports are administered as if our children mattered more than the outcome of the games and more than the aspirations and goals of the adults in charge."-Frank McMahon.

"I certainly tell players that it is very important to be on time, and if you present it to them at their level, they will sometime even be able to sway their parents into getting with the program."-Jeff Francis.

Unfortunately, too many parents coach their own youngsters. In my coaching experience, I learned that this can lead to some uncomfortable moments-mostly involving playing time and who is playing what position. I never thought that parents should be allowed to hang around at practice. Drive the player to the field, then do some errands, walk the dog, get some exercise, plan a proper diet. Do anything but berate a coach volunteering his or her time.

Let the coach run the practice and supervise the youngster on the field. And, believe it or not-there is the same set of rules for every player on the team-and those rules should be made clear to the parents and the player. When you sign up to play a sport, it becomes a family decision and a family commitment-with all the consequences that go with it. Here comes that 'life lessons' discussion again. No one wants a late or a lazy player. In life, if a youngster develops the habits of being both late and lazy, well, that kid at some point will end up unemployed, waking up at noon with nothing to do and no parent or coach to blame.

Coaches- what you see during those National Football League games doesn't always translate well if you really don't know what you are talking about. Sometimes all the coaching clinics in the world can't replace a little common sense. Be realistic about expectations and know that everyone has a life outside of game day. Believe it or not, it works both ways, and young people are smarter than you think when it comes to knowing just who is sending up athletic smoke screens.

If a player has a down day and doesn't practice well, having a parent present can lead to pressure that should never be part of the youth athletic experience. And, imposing stringent or silly rules doesn't always work. By the time kids are seniors in high school they might be so tuned out to the experience that they miss out on what could have been a good thing, a nice experience. Whatever happened to the idea of some simple pitch-and-catch and letting mistakes go down when there isn't some score on the line?

There is help out there-and no one involved in the Wilmington situation should be afraid to shake hands, admit what mistakes were made and promise that this kind of thing will never happen again. Wilmington got lucky this time. No one died behind that snack shack. Hopefully, someone learned a lesson before it's too late.

and support when it comes to the team scoring and ultimately winning games.

"We have been playing really well," he said. "Take away the previous two games (before Masco) and we have been playing great. We have Murph's throws and not too many teams can handle that. We have (Gott Saenchandi's) kicks and that's a big factor and our defense has been great and always plays great. We have (nine) shut outs this season."

And the eighth shut out of the season came at the expense of Masconomet - the team's biggest rival, the team that ousted Wilmington last year and the team that advanced to the state final. Caleb Rogers is just excited to be a part of that exciting win which just adds to his already good fortunes of this calendar year.

From three different sides, Aylward guides some light

By RICK COOKE
Sports Correspondent

Bob Aylward is retired and just recently returned home from a Florida trip to see his alma mater Wyoming Cowboys play a little football. The former Tewksbury High School Director of Athletics has played and coached a whole lot of football over many years. Aylward is also a parent and a grandparent. He has loved and raised three sons, and knows just how tough it is to watch any game from many different perspectives along the sideline.

There were many high school football players heading for the gridiron's emotional dumpster before Aylward came along to help work in some using of the word 'can' instead of 'can't.' There is a right way and a wrong way according to Aylward, but sometimes there are no easy answers when it comes to coaching young people and dealing with the emotions of their parents.

"It's hard for a parent to be totally objective," said Aylward Friday before the Tewksbury freshmen football team played the Lowell frosh at Doucette Field. "Any kid that's trying out for this sport deserves tremendous credit. We always made sure that the kids that weren't doing quite as well as the others felt good about themselves. The parent is seeing the kid going through the physical and emotional pain, and says - 'wait a minute, where's the payoff?' The parent loves their child and wants the best for that kid, but sometimes the kid might not be ready to play. This all can create little mini time bombs ready to explode at any time."

One of those time bombs went off recently for the Wilmington Pop Warner program, and Aylward can naturally see the after-effects from both sides-neither of which can be easily resolved given the line that everybody cares-and everybody hurts. Wounds are not just physical, but emotional, and neither is easily solved. It takes work on both sides of that ball, and there is no one with more of physical and emotional approach than Aylward.

"I've probably felt all of those same emotions as a parent and a coach," says Aylward. "It's a difficult circumstance, but it should never get to that point. You always have to ask-is the kid ready to play? You as a parent love the kid to death-but he's not ready. But, the parent wants him there, and they have paid their dues to get him into the program."

Seeing parents fighting with unreasonable coaches does nothing in the long run but batter a young athlete's self esteem. Young people are resilient, according to Aylward, and parents should never be afraid to let a youngster fail. What needs to be feared is the reaction to an adult's boorish behavior. Is this what we want to teach our young people? Legendary Wilmington High School track and field coach Frank Kelley steps up and asks the question.

"Self esteem needs to always be earned, and not just handed out," says Kelley.

Kelley maintains that it starts with the parents, with the coaches and teachers assisting in the process. Then it works. When people put anger and agendas above all else, it fails. When people like Aylward and Kelley get concerned and voice an opinion, it can only help.

Duck and Cover Defense

It had to be well over 20 years ago, and this writer was just a few years removed from playing some pretty good football, in fact the best middle guard, nose tackle, down-lineman-whatever we called the position at the time-of my all too brief football career. Yale had taken a look-see to see if I could play some Ivy League football for the legendary Carm Cozza

.That senior season at Tewksbury High School I discovered what real failure was all about. I didn't play well enough to get a second look that season in 1972.

After impressing the Yale football staff at a summer camp prior to the season, I came to that TMHS football camp ready to have that bust-a-gut and die trying senior year. It didn't happen. I underachieved for various reasons, and the team lost so many tough games that the count was all but buried under the disappointment. I still knew that I could play, and Bob Aylward got a hold of me and helped me to believe enough so that I played in a high school football all-star game. I was done, but no longer disappointed. I was ready to move on with my life.

Several years later-almost on a dare-I coached some Tewksbury Pop Warner football as an assistant coach on Ed Blades' Pee Wee team staff. I believe we were the Cherokees-the teams were all called those politically incorrect names- and we were pretty bad. The league's director didn't want me anywhere near the field, since I had written a rather scathing column taking the league to task for a certain mode of operation. I was a still a guy with some dashed dreams back then-a sportswriter with that background as a football player with some skills, and this made some of the Pop Warner people nervous. I actually knew what I was writing about. Now, I thought I could coach, and Blades, to his credit, gave me the opportunity to help teach young people some football.

The young man was small-well under 80 pounds-and he got down in a tilting football stance, not really sure of what he was getting himself into. I was coaching the line-men, and since this player wasn't ready to carry a football, we made him a one of the grunts-a very tiny and scared grunt lineman.

In truth, the kid wasn't anywhere near being the 'man' in this job description, but unfortunately, his dad thought this was the time to put his son's manhood to the test. We were running a simple drill where the players fired out of their stances and got in a blocking position, ready to make contact with the defensive player in front of them. The kid didn't exactly fire out on the whistle, and the dad was more than disappointed.

I don't remember the boy's name, and I wish I did. For purposes of this column, I'll call him Joey. Little Joey got out of his shaky football stance and covered his head with his hands. I'll never forget it. The kid was absolutely terrified. A contact sport was not going to be part of this young man's life-at least not right now. The dad was horrified, and because parents got to watch the practice, the father made his wishes known to the coach and the player.

The kid would play and he would never be afraid. But, the boy was afraid, and I had to explain to the dad that this was ok, that his son wasn't ready, and even he never was ready, that was fine, because he was a good kid doing his best. If he didn't like the contact and all that physical stuff that was involved, maybe he could be very good at something else in his young life. The dad didn't get it.

When that season was over I retired-and my short-lived coaching career was over. I would take all those football memories and hopefully translate some of them to these pages. I believe that it all worked out for the best, and I think about that young man whenever I see a tiny guy, looking too small for the helmet. I wonder what happened to that terrified young boy. I know that he's a real man now. I hope he did well.

Twelve wins and second place - what a season

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The final week of the regular season came to a halt for the Wilmington High School Field Hockey team. The pesky Wildcats defeated Newburyport, 3-0 and Rockport, 2-1, before falling to North Andover, 4-1, through the rain and wind on Tuesday night.

The 2-1 week finishes the team's record at 12-3-4 which includes the runners-up spot in the Cape Ann League standings, trailing North Andover. Wilmington finished with 28 points, just three behind North Andover, who had already clinched the league title before Tuesday night's game.

The second place for Wilmington is the best the team has ever finished in the Cape Ann League since winning back-to-back league titles in 1996 and 1997, and the 12 wins is the most out of any WHS Field Hockey team since 1992, when that team finished 15-3-1 overall which included three state tournament games.

Wilmington will now have about a week to rest up before making its first state tournament appearance since 2003 as the MIAA will release the Division 2 North sectional pairings on Monday.

There's a good chance Wilmington could be one of the top four or five seeds in the section and therefore could have either one or possibly two home games if that's the case. Watertown and Manchester-Essex would have the locks down on the top two spots, with Lynnfield ahead of Wilmington, and then Belmont, Stoneham, Saugus and Tewksbury right behind the Wildcats (if teams haven't changed divisions). Other teams possibly in the same bracket could be Marblehead, Bishop Fenwick, Swampscott, Rockport and Newburyport.

"With the tournament coming up, I'm really hoping to make it (at least) past the first round," said head coach Jodi MacKenzie. "The team has the potential, and I hope they know before the first round begins. It's going to be a fun week coming up to the game."

In the team's loss to North Andover, the Wildcats took an early 1-0 lead as Danielle Sugrue scored just five minutes into the game. But that was it for the Wildcats as North Andover scored three goals to close out the half ahead at 3-1, before adding one more in the second half.

"It was a rough game," said MacKenzie. "The rain killed us. I already have a couple of players feeling sick, and having the terrible weather does not keep their heads in the game at 100 percent. Although North Andover is a good team, and has taken the league title, I still think we're the better team."

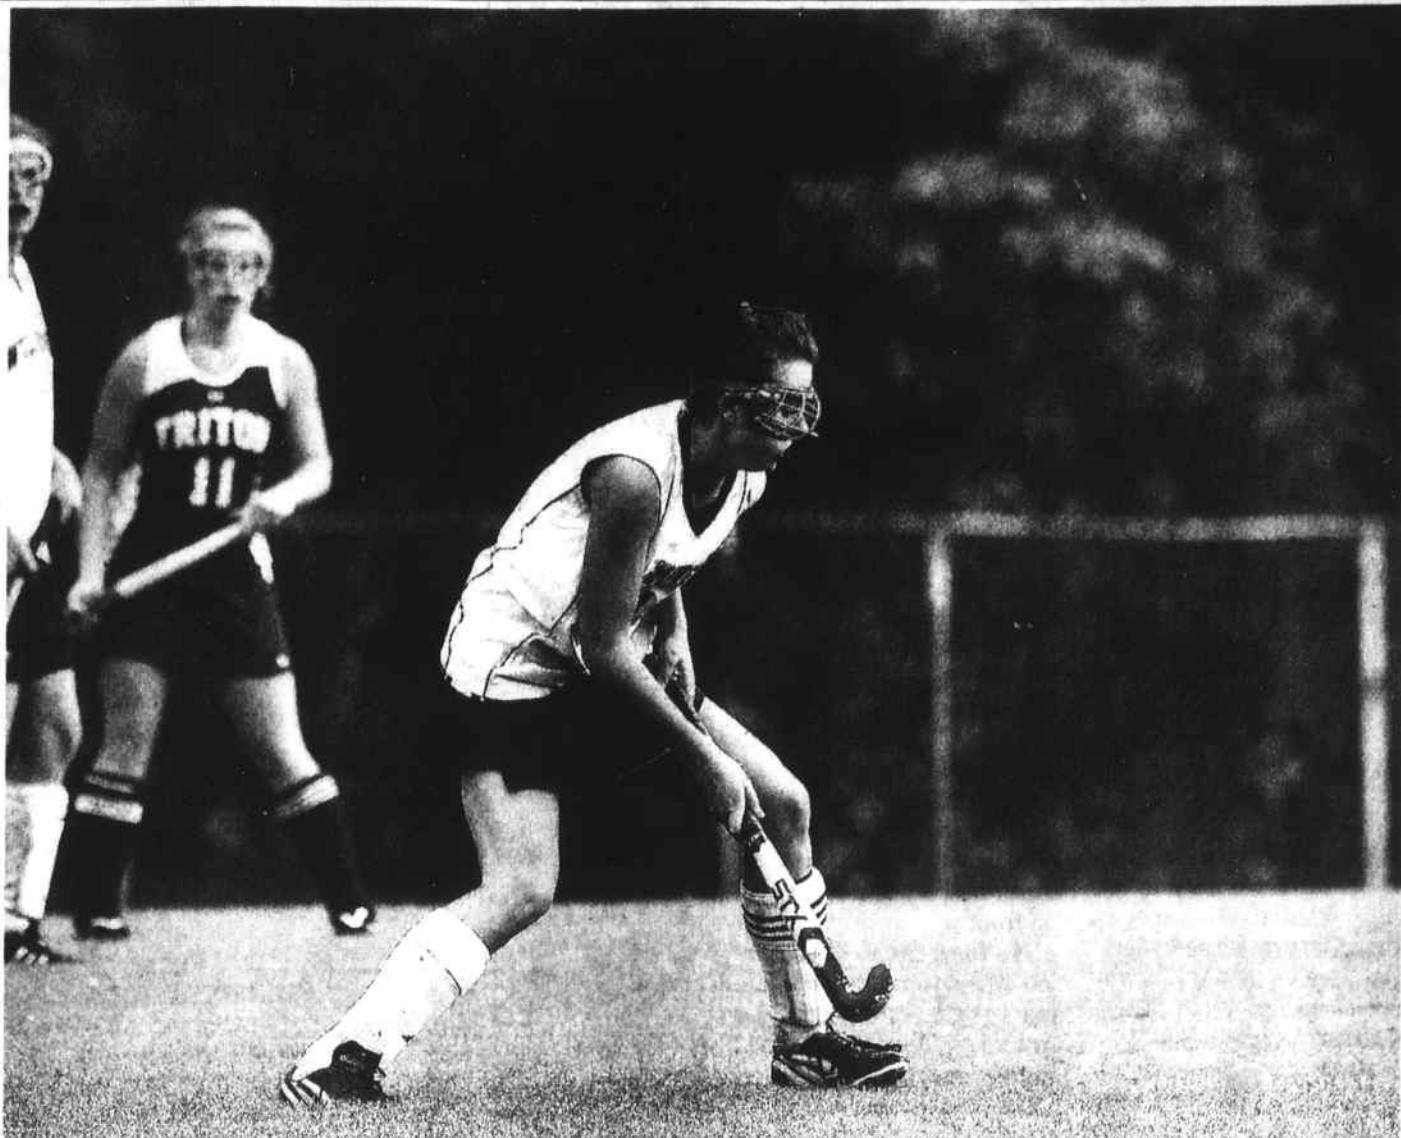

MacKenzie will not see North Andover again this season as the Knights compete in the Division 1 bracket, but she was so happy to see senior goalie Nicole Luz back in the pipes, although she has been walking around on crutches the last two weeks.

"She is such a trooper," said MacKenzie. "She is in so much pain and is doing her best (to help the team). She is such a great kid, who comes from a great family that's so supportive."

In the 2-1 win over Rockport, Wilmington came away with the win in the final seconds.

"Kellie Moon scored the second goal with no time left in the game," said MacKenzie. "The whistle had blown for a corner at the same time the game was up. But the rule says you have to play out the corner and sure enough, Kellie knocked in the pass from Liz Crannell and we were able to win the game."

Crannell scored the team's first goal, also off a corner.

North Andover too tough for both cross country teams

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Both the Wilmington High School Boys and Girls cross country teams were defeated by the mighty North Andover Scarlet Knights last Wednesday afternoon. The boys were defeated, 15-45, and the girls fell in a very close battle, 26-29, which means the boys team is now 3-7 with two meets left and the girls are now 6-4.

Both teams faced Manchester-Essex and Ipswich in a tri-meet on Tuesday afternoon but results weren't known as of presstime.

The North Andover boys improved to 7-2 on the season with the win.

"North Andover is one of the best (teams) in the league," said Wildcat head coach Tom Bradley. "They had the top five runners, including (Darryl) Varney (who finished second at the Cape Ann League championship meet last year)."

Zack Sears was the top finisher for Wilmington as he came in sixth overall at 15:56 over the 2.85 mile course. Freshman Stephen Halas was right behind him at 15:58, followed by Jake Russo, who Bradley aid ran a terrific race, finishing 9th overall at 16:59.

Rounding out the finishers include Tom Valente (13th, 17:35), John Weber (16th, 17:56), Andrew Sears (18:05) and Sean Keane, while Bradley said the team misses Cole Pepper, who has been ill and out of the line-up.

Turning to the girls race, eighth grader Sydnee Russo was sensational coming in third place overall behind two North Andover runners at a time of 18:37.

"By Sydnee taking third, that kept North Andover from an automatic win and that was huge for us," said Bradley.

Amy Fisher was fifth overall and she continues to really impress over the course of this season.

"She continues to be the biggest pleasant surprise for us this season," said Bradley.

Rachel Alatalo (6th, 19:36), Michelle Barnes (7th, 19:38) and Jess Burke (8th, 19:42) finished sixth through eighth respectively making the score that much more interesting.

Following those five runners include Lori Fletcher who continued her surge taking sixth for Wilmington at 20:32, with eighth grader Katy Goodwin (21:14) and Hannah Kelly (21:20) also putting forth strong efforts.

"Katy and Hannah, like Lori, have been climbing the chart with better performances each time out," said Bradley. "(And) Nikki Sirignano was injured which hurts us but we hope to have her back for the Cape Ann League Meet."

The CAL Meet will be Saturday afternoon beginning at 1:00 pm at Topsfield's Bradley Park.

Football team 6-1 and awaits Masco

Barry's team scores sixth victory

BY MIKE IPPOLITO

Sports Correspondent

On paper, last Friday night's Cape Ann League Large matchup between Wilmington High and Pentucket Regional looked like a great game. Wilmington was coming off a thrilling victory and brought a 5-1 record into the contest, while Pentucket came in with an impressive 4-2 mark.

But, that as they say, is why they do not play the games on paper.

Instead of the close contest that many expected, the Wildcats rolled to a dominating 31-7 victory at Alumni Field on the CAL Large opener for both teams. The Wildcats piled up 315 yards on the ground, led by 193 yards and two touchdowns from senior Evan Butters, on their way to the rout.

Wilmington (6-1) wasted no time in jumping all over their rivals, taking a 17-0 halftime lead on the strength of a Butters touchdown run, a Sean Hanley touchdown pass and another long field goal from last week's hero, kicker Chris Frissore. The 'Cats extended the lead to 31-0 in the second half before Pentucket got on the board late in the fourth quarter.

After going three and out on their first possession, the Wildcats put together a very impressive drive on their second possession, led primarily by the running of Butters, who ran six times on the eight play, 70-yard drive and capped the drive with a three yard blast up the middle to give the Wildcats a 7-0 lead with 5:05 left in the first quarter after Frissore nailed the first of his four extra points on the night.

While Butters did most of the work, the key play on the drive was a 23 yard hookup from Hanley (3-for-6, 74 yards) to junior tight end Brian Hurley for a first down at the Pentucket 18 yard line. Three plays later Butters had his first touchdown of the night.

Much as he did all night, Butters got great blocking on his touchdown blast, and Wildcats coach Mike Barry was quick to credit his offensive line as well as Hanley's ability to mix in the pass at the right time during not just the first drive, but all night long.

"Evan is a real good player, but you need the other parts to work as well," Barry said. "The line blocked real well all night and Sean was hitting passes that keeps them from keying on the run."

Butters also gave credit to the great play of the big men up front.

"It's hard not to do a good job when you get the blocking I got from my line and from the fullbacks all night," Butters said.

The Wildcats next drive stalled on the Pentucket 23 yard line, but Frissore, fresh off his game winning 38-yard field goal in last week's 24-22 win over Newburyport, nailed a 40-yarder with room to spare to make the lead 10-0 with 8:55 left in the half.

After holding Pentucket to a three and out, the Wildcats went right back to work, putting together a four-play, 71 yard drive led by the running of Butters and junior running back Kevin Moriarty (9 rushes, 82 yards). Much like the clutch pass by Hanley had helped set up the touchdown run on the first drive, the power running of Butters and Moriarty helped set up the scoring play on this drive when Hanley hit a wide open Moriarty with a perfect 12-yard pass in the front corner of the end zone for a 17-0 lead with 5:06 left in the half.

The key play in the drive came on its very first play when Butters made a spectacular cutback to elude his defenders and ran 45 yards to give Wilmington a first down at the Schem 26 yard line.

It looked like Pentucket (4-3) was going to get on the board before the end of the half, driving from their 27 yard line all the way to the Wilmington 21, but sophomore linebacker John Parsons thwarted the threat with an interception at the Wilmington 12 yard line with just over a minute left in the half.

Despite the 17-0 lead at the half, Barry refused to let his players believe the game was over, reminding them that Pentucket had the ability to get right back in the game.

"We stressed over and over to the kids at halftime that this game was not over," Wilmington coach Mike Barry said. "We have seen Pentucket come back before and we knew what they were capable of."

Barry seemed prophetic at the start of the half, as Pentucket took the opening kickoff and put together a nine play drive that moved them all the way to the Wilmington 30 yard line, but another big interception, this one by senior linebacker Tony Valente off a tipped ball thwarted the drive gave Wilmington the ball at their 14 yard line.

Three plays later Butters ripped off an amazing 74 yard run for a touchdown, putting on an extra burst of speed to beat his closest defenders once he got into the open field and give the Wildcats a 24-0 lead with 4:00 left in the third quarter.

Butters said the sight of the goal line in front of him gave him the extra burst he needed to score his 11th touchdown of the season.

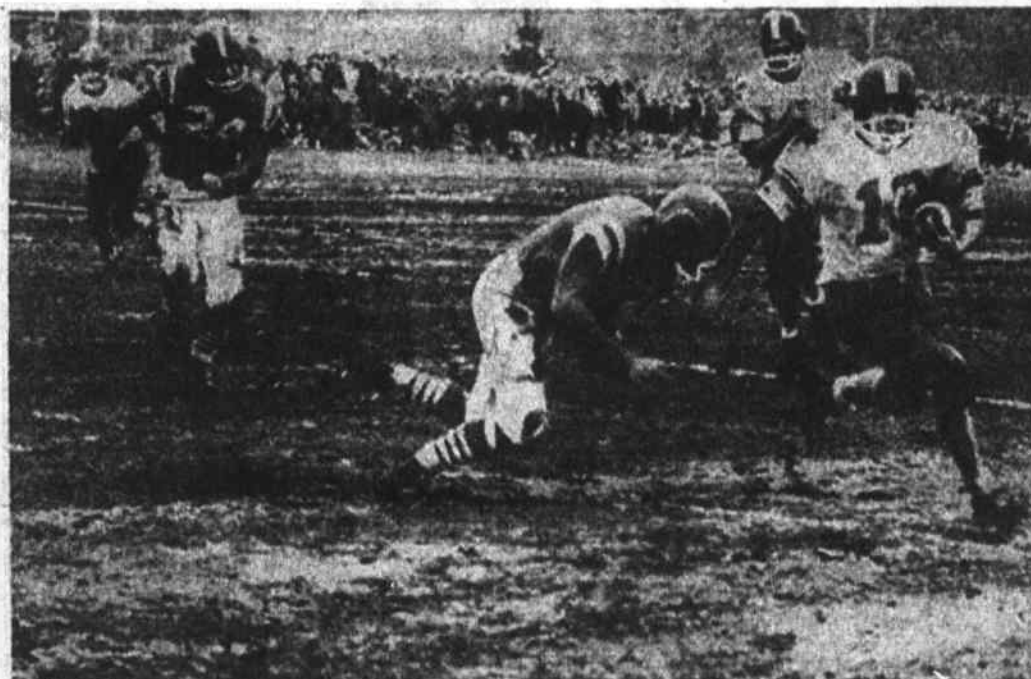

"I just saw the open field in front of me and I wanted to get an angle to the end zone," Butters said. "I saw nothing but green in front of me and I just wanted to score."

Wilmington closed out their scoring with an eight play, 81 yard drive capped by a four yard run by Parsons with 6:57 left in the game before Pentucket got on the board on a 52-yard pass from backup quarterback Mike Brennan to C.J. Lataille with 5:32 left in the game.

The Wildcats will continue their CAL Large schedule next Friday night in Topsfield against a 5-2 Masconomet squad. Barry knows his team will be in for a tough challenge from the Chieftains who are led by running back Evan Bunker, who has 12 touchdowns on the season and has also kicked 20 extra points. When Masco chooses to throw they will be led by senior Chris Splinter who has seven touchdown passes on the season. "Masco's record over the past couple of years speaks for itself," Barry said. "But the kids have not thought about them yet because they were solely focused on this game. Now we will move on to Masco and our captains will keep the kids focused just like they did this week."

Bowen Sparkles as Wilmington Topples Tewksbury, 18-6

In last week's Town Crier Sports Section, Rick Cooke wrote about the 1961 Wildcat Football team and in particular Jack Bowen, the team's powerful running back.

Upon reading the article, Kerry Munroe-Hanley of Wilmington discovered that her late grandfather Joe Beaton, a former history teacher at WHS, was Bowen's freshmen football coach. In addition, Kerry's father, Frank Munroe, played with Bowen, including scoring two touchdowns in the team's big win over Tewksbury on Thanksgiving. Frank never informed his family about those touchdowns, including his daughter Kerry, and his grandson Sean, the current WHS quarterback.

After reading last week's story in the Crier, Kerry came across some pictures of her father from that game against Tewksbury, and gratefully passed them along to the Town Crier and its readers. Frank Munroe attends every Wildcat game, watching his grandson throw for almost 800 passing yards with 8 touchdown passes through seven games.

Wildcats Set To Growl

Esposito honored at BC-NC State Game

On October 17th, former WHS, Boston College and NFL player, Mike Esposito was recognized before the start of the Boston College-NC State Football game. Esposito was brought out before the crowd and was honored for his great achievements as a former BC player back in the 1970s.

Here's what the announced read to the sold out crowd on behalf of Esposito and his great career at Boston College.

"Ladies and gentlemen, we direct your attention to the North end zone, where Boston College is pleased to welcome back former Eagle Mike Esposito. A native of Wilmington, MA Esposito lettered for the Eagles from 1972 thru 1974.

"Esposito served as a team captain in 1974 and finished his career as the leader in numerous BC rushing categories. He still ranks in the top ten in many of them including, sixth all time in career rushing yards and seventh in career rushing touchdowns with twenty four, fourth for the most rushing touchdowns in a season and sixth on the all-time list with eleven 100-yard rushing games.

"An All-New England and All-East selection Esposito was the recipient of the O'Melia Trophy as most valuable player in the 1973 BC-Holy Cross game and was the first junior in three decades to be presented with the coveted Bulger Lowe Award as the outstanding football player in New England.

"As a preseason All-America candidate his senior year Esposito was limited due to an injury but he finished strong and represented BC in the East-West Shrine Game and the Senior Bowl before being drafted in the seventh round of the 1975 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons.

"Esposito spent five years in the NFL and was inducted into the Boston College Varsity Club Athletic Hall of Fame in 1980 and to this day remains one of the most prolific rushers in Boston College football history.

"Ladies and gentlemen please welcome back at Half Back, #26, Mike Esposito."

The Town Crier will be running an extensive in depth story on Mike Esposito following his Hall of Fame career at both WHS and Boston College, his days in the NFL, and his days since leaving the game of football during the Thanksgiving Football Section coming out late next month.

Pee Wee I Pop Warner team nails down second win

The Wilmington Pop Warner Pee Wee 1 team earned a dramatic 7-6 victory at Burlington last Sunday to keep them in line for a winning record heading into next week's final game at Arlington.

Locked in a tight battle against Burlington, the Wildcats were behind 6-0 going into the fourth quarter. Late in the third quarter, Wilmington's Connor Robinson blocked a Patriots punt and the 'Cats took over at the Burlington 27-yard line. A seven-yard run by Scotty Newton and an eight-yard gain by Charlie Minghella helped the Wildcats push to the Burlington five-yard line. However, they could not get the ball in the end zone as the period ended.

The Patriots took over at the Wilmington six-yard line to begin the final quarter. Despite runs of 20 yards and 11 yards by the Patriots early in the drive, the Wildcat defense stopped Burlington near midfield. Nick Ford made the fourth-down tackle for Wilmington.

The Wildcats got the ball at the Burlington 45-yard line. On their second play of the possession, Minghella ran around the right end for what looked like a decent gain. On second look, there was Minghella dashing out of the pile and down the sideline after breaking some tackles and getting good blocks. He went all the way to the end zone to tie the game at 6-6.

The critical conversion point, which ended up as the margin of victory, was rushed in by Newton.

Burlington, however, still had time to drive for a winning score. Taking over after the kickoff at their own 42, the Devils used a strong rushing attack - and two Wilmington penalties - to get to the Wildcat 27. A pretty pass completion by the Patriots put them on the 12-yard line, and then a 10-yard run brought them down to the two-yard line in the final minute of the game. However, Burlington did not have any time-outs remaining and time expired before they were able to snap the ball for one more play.

The Devils had taken a 6-0 lead in the game late in the first quarter on a 37-yard touchdown run. Their rush for the extra point was stopped by the Wildcats, which would turn out to be a big play.

Both teams were able to move the ball in the first half, but the Devils had the only score. Good defensive plays by Wilmington in the second quarter included a combined tackle for a loss by Newton and Sam Jennings, and a pass break-up by Graham Smith.

After Burlington's on-side kick attempt to begin the second half was too short, Wilmington got the ball at the Devils' 43. They were moving it well before Burlington recovered a fumble. That offensive series for the Devils ended with Robinson's blocked punt, which led into the exciting fourth-quarter finish.

The win was the second in a row for Wilmington, which now has a 4-3 record.

Shawsheen Tech Sports Round-Up

Girls celebrate with second straight CAC league title

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

There was not a lot of drama to it, as they had already wrapped up at least a share of the league crown the week before, and in reality had gained the inside track on the title since about the midway point of the season, but a lack of drama could not take away from the brilliant accomplishment of the Shawsheen Tech girls soccer team last Thursday afternoon when they defeated CAC rival Mystic Valley 4-0 to clinch their second straight outright CAC Upper Division title.

That win, coupled with a 6-0 rout of CAC rival PMA on Monday also wrapped up an undefeated league schedule for the Lady Rams as they completed their league play at a perfect 12-0, and are 15-2 overall.

"It was a huge week for us," Shawsheen coach Doug Michaud said. "I think the celebration may have been a little squelched because they did not even realize what they had done. They were more excited last week when they beat Greater Lowell and knew they had clinched at least a tie."

In the win over Mystic, the Lady Rams saw their biggest stars step up for them with a pair of goals from senior midfielder and co-captain Jenna Zechner and individual goals from senior co-captain Jenn Carroll of Wilmington along with senior Janel Madore of Tewksbury.

Alyssa Martucci of Tewksbury made four saves to earn the win in net.

While the stars made the biggest plays for Shawsheen in the Mystic win, it was some of the lesser known players who made the biggest contributions against PMA on Monday. The Lady Rams had six different goal scorers, with individual tallies coming from Kim Barriss, Kristen Carroll of Tewksbury, Sabrina Gomes, Amanda Vance, Casey Reese of Tewksbury and Taylor Bergstrom.

Jen Curtis played the first half in goal before giving way to Barriss, and Curtis actually collected an assist.

"It was nice to give some other kids the opportunity to play a little more," Michaud said. "The kids were happy to be able to score and contribute and it was nice to see a player like Casey Reese, who is a senior and has worked hard for us score a goal."

In between the two league victories, Shawsheen suffered a non-league loss to North Reading last Friday by a score of 3-1. Despite the loss, it was still a fine effort for Shawsheen against a Division 2 school, as they trailed only 1-0 at the half and closed the gap to 2-1 in the second half on a goal by Zechner.

"I thought we played well," Michaud said. "There was one point in the second half where we were really controlling play after we made it 2-1, but they had a player make a great play to make it 3-1 and that kind of took away the momentum from us."

After wrapping up their regular season schedule on Monday, the Lady Rams will begin play in the State Vocational Tournament, most likely beginning on Tuesday at home, and will await the announcement of their first round opponent in the Division 3 North Tournament.

Michaud says his team is more than ready for post season play.

"They have been excited for the tournament since we stepped on the field for our first practice," Michaud said. "Since I have been coach we have not gone past the first round, and that is our goal right now. Then it is just a matter of how far you can go."

Boys Soccer

The Shawsheen boys soccer team will be looking to make their own mark in post season play, but first they must take care of the business of qualifying for the state tournament. After dropping a pair of games to some tough competition last week, the Rams must earn three points in their final three games to qualify.

The Rams are coming off losses to CAC rival Northeast on Wednesday afternoon by a 4-0 score and a Homecoming loss to Arlington Catholic on Saturday by a score of 6-4 to drop their record to 6-6-3 overall.

In the loss to AC, the Rams got goals from senior midfielders Rick Madigan and Mike O'Connell along with sophomore halfback Nick Sheehan and junior forward Kris Galdi.

Senior goalie Alex Perez made 10 saves in the loss.

"Our biggest problem against AC was that every time to score we would turn around and give up a goal right away," Shawsheen coach Dick Barriss said. "That makes it very difficult catch up. We cut the lead to 3-2 and then right away gave up a goal, and then we cut it to 4-3 but gave a goal right back."

Against Northeast, the problem for the Rams was that they simply ran into a very powerful opponent who will be battling perennial league champ Chelsea for the league title in the final week of the season.

"Northeast is just a very strong team and I thought we did well to keep it at 4-0," Barriss said. "They scored at one minute and four minute mark. As I was standing on the sidelines watching them I was thinking that they are as good as Chelsea or better."

Perez was once again outstanding, making 14 saves on 18 shots.

"Alex has done even better than I expected," Barriss said. "He played very well against Northeast. AC may have been the first time where he did not play as well and he started to second guess himself a little, but he has been having a very good year for us."

Volleyball

The Shawsheen volleyball team has qualified for their fourth straight state tournament bid, despite a pair of tough losses this past week to Greater Lawrence and Nashoba Tech.

On Thursday the Lady Rams dropped a 3-1 (18-25, 25-21, 25-19, 25-20) decision to CAC power Greater Lawrence. Despite coming out on the short end of the final score, Shawsheen did accomplish something that no other team had done all year in merely winning a game against Greater Lawrence.

While Shawsheen coach Chet Flynn is not necessarily into moral victories, he did feel like this was a loss that his team could take some pride in.

"As I said to the kids after the match, no one likes to lose, but that is a good way to lose," Flynn said. "It wasn't just that we won one game because that could be a fluke, but it was the way we were competitive in every game. We were up 20-19 in the second game as well."

Flynn was pleased with the effort of virtually every member of his squad for the way they battled the Reggies, but did point out that Holley Zechner, Jess Houghton and Tewksbury's Allyson Trayah stood out for their fine play.

"It was really a total team effort," Flynn said. "Holly did a really great job serving which was huge for us. We know we are going to get that from Jess and Allyson so to get that from Holly was a big boost for us. And we also played very good defense all the way through the match."

Flynn was not as pleased with the results on Friday against Nashoba Tech. Although the 3-1 final actually had closer scores (23-25, 25-20, 25-23, 25-23) he did not feel his team was at their best while going down to defeat.

"We played much better against Greater Lawrence," Flynn said. "I thought we were kind of sloppy throughout the match. We did not serve very well and we hit a lot of balls out. You have to give Nashoba Tech credit too. They played much better defense than the last time we played them."

Flynn did feel the Lady Rams got solid efforts from Houghton, Catie Vultaggio of Tewksbury and Laura Sorenson.

With a 10-7 overall record, the Lady Rams have secured a spot in the Division 3 state tournament and Flynn feels that matches like the one his team played against a Division 2 team like Greater Lawrence can only help them come tournament time.

"I think Greater Lawrence is as good as or better than any team we could face in the tournament," Flynn said. "So if we play like that in the tournament I think we can do well."

Golf

The Shawsheen golf team wrapped up another great season with more post season appearances last week. After winning both the Colonial Athletic League regular season title as well as the CAL Tournament last Tuesday, the Rams set their sights on the Stat Vocational Tournament last Wednesday as well as the Division 3 North Tournament on Monday.

In the voke tournament last Wednesday at Ridder Farms, the Rams came up just short for the second year in a row with a second place finish behind Bristol Plymouth. The Rams were without their number two player, sophomore star Stephen Murphy, who missed the even with a knee injury, but Brett Fredrickson, Dan Jacobs, Chris Clayton, Chris Deacetis and Corey Gendreau put up quite a battle before falling short by five strokes.

"Once again, it was close but no cigar. We did well to finish second, but we really thought this was our year," Shawsheen coach Tom Struthers said. "Who knows whether or not having Murphy would have made a difference, but it was a good round of golf by a lot of our players."

In the Division 3 North Tournament on Monday at Far Corners, Jacobs was the Rams low scorer with an 83, good enough for 20th overall in the field of 84 golfers.

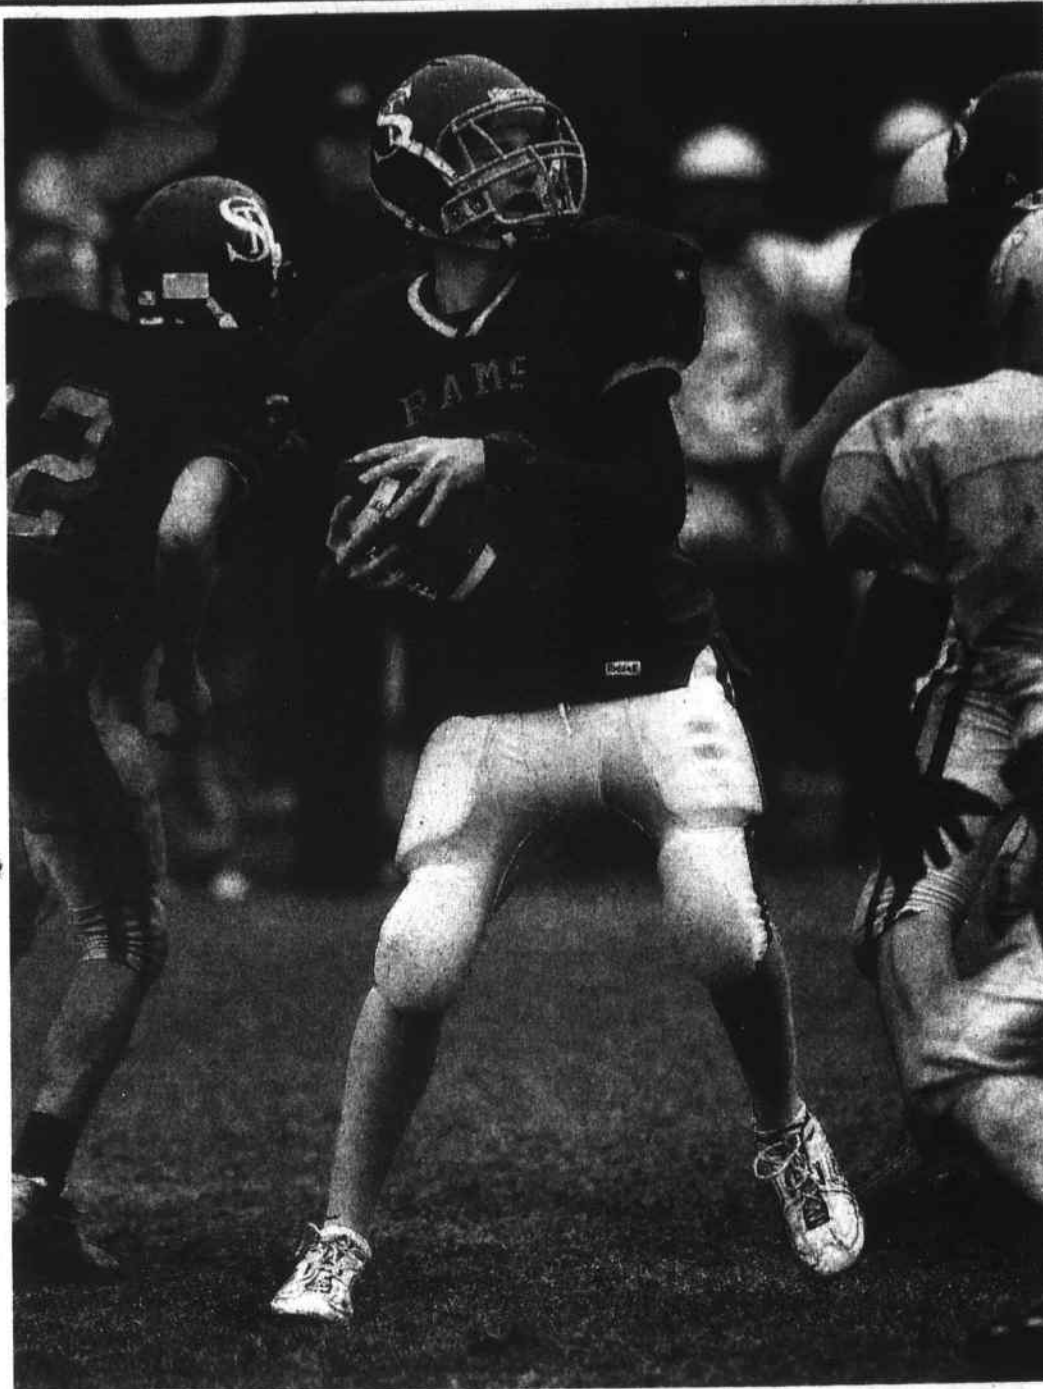

Clayton, Spencer Sawicki, Deacetis, Fredrickson and Corey Gendreau also competed well for the Rams.

Overall for the Rams it was a very successful season, as they won their fifth league title in a row, and first in their new Colonial Athletic League, posting an undefeated league mark of 10-0.

Struthers was able to both look back with pride and ahead with promise as he analyzed his team.

"It was a great year for Shawsheen golf," Struthers said. "Of course we would have liked to win the voke tournament, but overall it was a great season. And we only lose one senior starter in Fredrickson. Of course he was outstanding, but we are hoping that a player like Jacobs and step in as our number one."

"And we also have a lot of sophomores who will be ready to step up as juniors next year. We look strong and hopefully we will keep getting stronger."

Whittier Tech's offense runs wild

Homecoming contest a little bleak for Football team

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA - For a half on Saturday, it looked like the Shawsheen Tech football team might just be able to do the unthinkable and pull a major upset of CAC Upper Division rival Whittier Tech of Haverhill. But unfortunately for the Rams, it was not to be as Whittier spoiled the Rams Homecoming Game at Samuel J. Cassidy Field, scoring the final 24 points of the game to break open what had been a tie game late in the first half on their way to a 38-14 victory.

Whittier maintained their perfect record on the season with the win, improving to 7-0 overall (2-0 in CAC Upper), while the Rams fell to 2-5 (0-2).

The Rams were done in by a powerful Wildcat rushing attack, as Whittier piled up 226 yards on the ground, while they also had to deal with the great passing of senior quarterback Dillon Ryan, who threw touchdown passes after entering the game with a Division 3A leading 15 scoring throws.

The Rams offense, meanwhile could never quite get anything going, as they did not record their first first down of the game until late in the second quarter and overall were held to just 114 yards of total offense.

Shawsheen had fallen into a 14-0 hole in the first half behind a pair of touchdown passes by Ryan (12 - for 19, 136 yards, 3 TD's), and had still not recorded that elusive first down when they began a comeback that got them right back in the game late in the second quarter.

Ryan had connected with Ralph Hancock for 13 yards on the Wildcats first possession and with Paul Buccos for 31 yards with 8:02 left in the half for the 14-0 lead, but Shawsheen did not give up despite their offensive struggles.

The Rams got the break they needed with about five minutes left in the first half when a Whittier player tried to advance a punt after signaling for a fair catch. The penalty pinned the Wildcats on their 10 yard line, and after a Derek Bent sack on first down backed them up to the two yard line, Shawsheen senior defensive back Derek Steen of Tewksbury came up with an even bigger play moments later, picking off a Ryan pass and returning it 15 yards for a touchdown with 3:40 left in the half.

When Nick Danas added the first of his two extra points, the Rams trailed just 14-7.

"Steen made a big, big defensive play there," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "At that point it was a huge play for us and then we were able to hit the big pass and score right after that, so we were looking pretty good."

The fired up Rams defense held the Wildcats to a three and out on their next possession and two plays later the Shawsheen offense picked up their first first down of the game in spectacular fashion on the big pass play that Costabile referred to when senior quarterback Kevin White of Tewksbury connected with junior Robert Greenwood of Tewksbury for a 59 yard completion down to the Whittier 11 yard line.

After picking up a first down at the one yard line on a clutch run by fullback Devin Conneaney on first down, the Rams scored the tying touchdown on a one yard run by Cory Foss with 41 seconds left in the half, and for a moment it looked like they may be on the verge of an upset in the making against the undefeated Wildcats.

Ryan, however, showed why he had thrown 15 touchdown passes on the season heading into the game, taking over at his own 35 yard line and completing four straight passes to get the Wildcats into the end zone as time expired in the first half on a six yard pass to Hancock who was wide open in the corner of the end zone. The two point conversion rush by Buccos made the score 22-14 in favor of Whittier at the half.

"That was a real big drive," Costabile said. "He throws the ball very well, and he's got good poise and he scans the field. All around, I would say he is the best quarterback we have faced this season."

Whittier kept the pressure on in the second half scoring on their first two possessions, first on a 43 yard run by Nick Ferreria and later on a 14 yard scamper by Nate Alle. The two point conversion attempts were successful after each touchdown to account for the 38-14 final.

"There is a reason they are undefeated," Costabile said. "They have a lot of talented people on offense and they can run a ball control offense where you can't just focus on one person."

Shawsheen will continue their CAC Upper Division schedule next week, as they try to rebound on the road against Lynn Tech. Lynn Tech will bring a 5-2 overall record into the game (1-2 CAC Large), and are led by quarterback Dustin Rooney who has thrown five touchdown passes on the year, along with running back Ryan Murphy who has scored 11 touchdowns on the season.

For Costabile and the Rams, it is a matter of staying focused despite what has been a somewhat disappointing season to this point.

"The key down the stretch is to continue to improve as a football team, and to go out every week and try to become a good football team," Costabile said. "Sometimes you can't be in position to play for the league title, but you can never stop trying to be a better football player or football team."

Bartalamia continues to be an offensive force at Fitchburg

WILMINGTON & TEWKSBURY

By DAN IGO

Sports Correspondent

There are no signs of Tewksbury's Paula Bartalamia slowing down for the Fitchburg State field hockey team.

The senior forward added to her career-year after scoring two goals in a 3-2 loss to Keene State on Saturday. Bartalamia scored both her goals late in the second half in a last-ditch comeback attempt, but ultimately the Owls suffered their third conference loss of the season.

Paula Bartalamia

Bartalamia leads the team with 11 goals and 25 points. She also has three assists on the year. The Owls boast a record of 11-4, 8-3 in the Little East Conference.

Bartalamia and the Owls travel to Becker College on Wednesday.

Another former Tewksbury

High standout continued her strong season on the field hockey pitch last week as Sammy Macy notched yet another goal in UMass Lowell's 3-2 win over Bentley on Tuesday.

Macy, a junior forward, launched a rocket from the top of the center in the 32nd minute to give the River Hawks the lead. The win came on Senior Night and improved the River Hawks record to 15-3.

Macy leads the team with in goals (22), points (50), shots (126) and shots on goal (74). She also leads the team in game-winning goals with seven. She is second on the team in assists with six.

UMass Lowell is currently ranked fifth in the country. Next up is the Northeast-10 Tournament, where they have the third seed. They play host to Southern Connecticut on Wednesday.

Vinny Papageorgiou concluded his superb sophomore campaign as the goalie for the Franklin Pierce soccer team with a 1-0 shutout victory over Assumption on Saturday.

The Wilmington native made only one save in the game, but it proved to be crucial late in the game as he stopped a header in front of the net. He finished the regular season with a record of 10-2-1 in goal.

Last week Papageorgiou was named the Northeast-10 Conference Goalkeeper of the Week. Franklin Pierce will next compete in the Northeast-10 tournament. Tournament details have not been released as of Tuesday.

Two local football players played key parts in WPI's highly-contested 24-17 loss to Rochester on Saturday.

Wilmington's Ernie Mello made his presence felt in the backfield. The sophomore running back had 26 yards on 10 carries and added two catches for 21 yards. He also had a kickoff return of 21 yards.

Tewksbury's Adam Power was also involved on the other side of the ball. The junior defensive back had four tackles, three of them solo, in the loss. He assisted on a tackle for a loss as well. They play host to Hobart on Saturday.

The Engineers fell to 3-4 from the Plymouth State University Football team, and of Tewksbury, has played in all eight games as a linebacker, starting one, and recorded 15 tackles including 0.5 tackles for a loss and a fumble recovery.

The Panthers are 6-2 overall and in second place in the NEFC Boyd Division at 4-1, after falling to conference rival Curry on Saturday, 20-9. Plymouth State is hosting MIT this Saturday for Senior with the loss. They are 0-4 in the Liberty League and have lost four in a row.

Freshman Matt Bailey

Day and will wrap up the regular season on the road at Salve Regina.

Tewksbury's Vicky Wong

had another solid game for the UMass Lowell volleyball team, as they won their third straight game 3-1 over the New York Institute of Technology.

Wong had 10 kills and 10 digs in the non-conference win.

Three Tewksbury athletes competed in the "Monsterdash Duathlon" held on Saturday in Lowell. The race consisted of a cycling run sandwiched by two 5Ks. Marc Shaponick came in 11th place with a time of 1:26:55. Chris Stone's time of 1:34:23 placed him 28th. Paul Sedgwick crossed the line in 34th place with a time of 1:39:33.

Two Wilmington natives ran in Saturday's "Jennifer's Run 5K" held in Lowell. Heather Makrez finished in 34th place with a time of 34:42, while Chris Markrez was right behind in 35th place with a time of 34:43.

After a series of potential violent incidents at games, Tewksbury Youth Football has issued a statement on its Web site. Revolution and Rapids meet up in sensational youth soccer game

Boys Grade 1
NE Revolution
vs. Colorado Rapids
The crowd was kept on the edge of their seats this week as the NE Revolution led by the offensive skills of Sean Lydon and Matt DeSario led to scoring opportunities by Zach Smith, Chris Bernazani, Patrick Xavier and Brendan Ardito in this past weekend's Wilmington Youth Soccer games.
The defense was not to be left out of this one either as Derek Ingram and Ben McEwen kept the ball out of their zone for much of the game.
The Colorado Rapids offensive pressure was relentless with Ryan Forcina and Skyler Bohnert applying it with utter determination. Outstanding defense by Colin Gates and Ryan Garrant was a sight to see. While scoring by Ryan Forcina and Skyler Bohnert had the crowd on the edge of their seats.
DC United vs. Chicago Fire

The crowds gathered at the Shawshen fields for this back and forth game. The DC United led by Derek Costello got the crowd jumping out of their seats. Alex Fitzer, Tyler Newhouse, Steven O'Connor, Sean Riley, and Colton Sullivan led the scoring charge while the great defensive effort of Jason Berube kept the action going.
Girls Grade 1
Chivas USA
vs. Colorado Rapids
The Colorado Rapids offensive pressure was relentless with Olivia Dennett and Maggie Bourgeois applying it with utter determination. Outstanding defense by Elizabeth Stokes and Bridget Callahan was a sight to see. While scoring by Hannah Callahan, Katie McLaughlin, and Katie Regan had the crowd on the edge of their seats.
Boys Grade 2
Pennsylvania vs. Stanford
Pennsylvania showed up for this game with a powerful offensive force led by Zach Morris, Jack Snider, and Jose Rojas-James and resulting in goals from Matt Pendenza, Matt Chisholm, and Jack Snider. Every player on the Pennsylvania team complimented this with great defense. Devin McGowan and Ryan Long played goal with tiger like quickness play after play keeping Pennsylvania in this game.

Harvard vs. Rutgers
On the other side of the ball for Rutgers was an incredible offensive performance by Camden Kenyon while goals scored by Timothy Corrigan, Jason Moore, and Anthony Cuozzo got Rutgers on the board. With a rock solid defensive stand led by Jonathan O'Connor the Rutgers was never out of this game. The keeper team of Randall Vega, Kyle Vallee, and Sukethram Sivakumar could only be classified as awesome.
Dartmouth vs. Brown
Dartmouth showed up for this game with a powerful offensive force led by Kevin Palmerino, Richie Stuart, and James Valenti and resulting in goals from Jake Danieli. Daniel Maienza and Thomas Abbott complimented this with great defense. Brian Lynch and Patrick McCarthy played goal with tiger like quickness play after play keeping Dartmouth in this game.

Girls Grade 2
Dartmouth vs. Brown
Proving they were also World Cup Competitors. Jenna Tavanese and Payton Fuller scored for Brown in this hard fought game, Ava Masiello, Sophia Fruciano and Savannah Andersen added the offensive punch and Felicia Zuccola and Shannon Barrett held up the defense. It was an outstanding team effort capped off with great goal keeping by Olivia Mason.

Pennsylvania vs. Stanford
Proving they were also World Cup Competitors. Devon Robinson scored for Stanford in this hard fought game, Julia Hill added the offensive punch and Elizabeth Connelly held up the defense. It was an outstanding team effort capped off with great goal keeping by Melanie Hayden, Mackenzie Zaya.
Boys Grade 3/4
USA & England

vs. Brazil & Ireland
A true World Cup Performance by the USA & England made for an exciting game. Outstanding plays by Chris McGondel, Ali Rana and John Spina coupled with a strong defensive stand by Matthew McElligott, Ethan Koester and Adam Doucette made for an all around first class game.
Patrick LaLiberte scored putting the USA & England on the board. Solid goaltending by Joey DeSario and Nick Moore to keep their team alive also added to the effort

Mite III's skate to 6-4 victory

The lessons of youth hockey are simple. Skate your position, keep your stick on the ice, and let the good things happen. That disciplined approach paid off Sunday as the Wilmington Youth Hockey Association Mite 3 team topped North Reading by a score of 6-4 at the Tewksbury Arena.
Chris Bernazani had the biggest reward for his hard work, knocking in four goals by being in the right place to take in his teammates passes, and to challenge for rebounds in front of the net.
After scoring the first goal of the game, Chris saw the North Reading Hornets fight back to take a 2-1 lead. The Wildcats took back the lead with a goal from Matt Ardito, and Matt's brother Brendan Ardito assisted on three more goals from Bernazani.

The persistent North Reading squad played hard and chipped in three more goals of their own to keep the game within reach. With Wilmington leading 5-4 heading into the final minutes, the enthusiastic crowd of parents, friends, and relatives was more excited with every rush up the ice.
Wilmington goalie Anthony Cuozzo stood his ground, with help from the outstanding defensive play of James LeFave, Joseph Hartzell, and Aidan Elkins. The forward lines of Nolan Vigeant, Harry Serounian, Brendan Ardito, and Max Churchill worked hard to keep the play in front of the North Reading net, proving that the best defense is a good offense.

In the third period, Riley Fitzgerald moved up from the blue line and onto the right wing, trading positions with Alex Fitzer. The switch turned out to be the icing on the cake when a Harry Serounian pass sent Fitzgerald in on a breakaway with just a few minutes remaining. Fitzgerald's goal gave the Wildcats a little breathing room and set the final score at 6-4.
The team now looks to continue the winning ways as they move into the second part of the season, facing off against new division opponents in the weeks ahead.

Former Burlington girls basketball coach Benefit for Woburn's Peter Breton is Nov. 28

By GORDON VINCENT

WOBURN - For as long as anyone can remember, Woburn's Peter Breton has given back to the community. Now his friends are asking the community to give a part of itself back to Breton.

Breton, the former coach and Marshall Simonds Middle School teacher, is afflicted with a rare condition known as Guillain-Barre Syndrome. There will be a special benefit event for him on Saturday, Nov. 28 (4-8 p.m.) at the American Legion hall on Winn Street in Burlington.

Among the items that will be offered in the silent auction and raffle at the event are tickets to professional sports events, scholarships to

Bentley University's basketball camp, gift baskets, gift certificates for a wide variety of cuisine, services, trips and activities, along with home furnishings and clothing.

According to Russ Hammond, Breton's long-time friend, coaching assistant and one of the organizers of the Nov. 28 event, Breton was getting ready for the 2008-09 basketball season as an assistant coach for the girls team at Woburn High when he started having trouble walking.

"It was just before the season started, and he noticed he was getting unstable on his feet," said Hammond. "The next thing he told me, he collapsed and he couldn't get up."

Breton's affliction worsened to the point where his entire body shut down, and he was essentially paralyzed from the neck down.

"His nerve endings were destroyed," said Hammond. "They said it could be six months, a year, two years, before he recovers. He's improved a little bit, but he's still in a wheelchair."

A special van was needed to transport Breton to the various hospitals and therapy sessions he's needed to get to for the past 11 months. He's been from Mass. General to New England Rehab in Woburn, back to MGH, back to New England Rehab, then to a facility in Stoneham and then this summer to another facility in Haverhill.

"He's stayed remarkably upbeat the entire time," said Hammond. "But that's the way Peter has always been."

A few months ago, Lexington High girls basketball coach Paul McManus suggested the idea of a fund-raiser to help defray some of Breton's medical costs. That led to the formation of a committee that includes former Marshall Simonds Middle School colleague Paula Panagiotopoulos, Woburn neighbor Joan Tuttle, Hammond and McKenna.

"The middle school community in particular and the entire Burlington public school system has been very supportive," said Hammond.

"(Burlington) Superintendent Eric Conti has been super. He's let us pass out our fliers, and (Burlington High athletic arms or even the face. As the disorder progresses, muscle weakness can evolve into paralysis."

director) Ed Gillis has let us pass our fliers out at football games."

Hammond's daughter has also set up a page on Facebook, and notices have been distributed to 200-250 coaches in eastern Massachusetts.

Breton's contacts in the coaching community are certainly considerable. His resume encompasses nearly five decades and includes landing spots all throughout eastern Massachusetts. He is probably best known for the 10 years (1993-94 through 2002-03) he spent at Burlington High as the girls basketball coach. His teams went 151-64 and qualified for the state tournament nine times.

He retired from both teaching and coaching in 2003, but was back on the bench a year later as Kevin McKenna's assistant coach of the Wakefield High girls basketball team.

He took the plunge back into full-time coaching again with the Lynnfield High girls basketball team, which he coached for three years, retiring again in 2007.

At Burlington High, Breton was also an assistant baseball coach under the legendary Jim Curtin and an assistant boys basketball coach under Ray Lang, dur-

"AMELIA" DOESN'T QUITE WORK.

"AMELIA" stars Hillary Swank as Amelia Earhart. The film correctly portrays Earhart as a woman of great ideals but doesn't take time to explain her motives, or her passion for flight. Richard Gere also stars in this movie.

"AMELIA"
GRADE: **

In the 1920's and 30's female pilot Amelia Earhart (played by Hillary Swank) attempted to break several long-distance flight records during a trip across the Atlantic and a journey around the world, a journey from which she never returned. This film puts her life, her loves, and struggles as a female pilot on the big screen.

The film is visually stunning. The studio has obviously spared no expense in telling this tale, and the acting performance put forth by Swank is exactly what you have come to expect from her - she is very convincing, as always.

But the story doesn't quite work for some reason. Some might say that the film is just boring, or that the pacing and directing could have been better. But the truth is more along the lines that the script never really explains why Amelia is willing to take these risks, or why the journeys are so important in the grand scheme of history. It's almost like the producers assume if you are interested in seeing the film you must already know a bit about Earhart, and they miss a great opportunity to teach a new generation about her in depth.

The viewer loses focus, and that's the kiss of death in a movie with a running time of nearly two hours.

If you are a fan of aviation, love the sight of older planes flying overhead, that alone will be worth the price of admission. And if you like romantic movies, then watch the relationship develop between Swank and Richard Gere.

The film correctly portrays Earhart as a woman of great ideals who refused to compromise, all the while recognizing the hoops she had to jump through to make her dreams come true.

"WHERE THE WILD THINGS ARE"
GRADE: ****

Just like the classic children's book it is based on, "Where the Wild Things Are" is a fantastic exploration into childhood imagination, and well-worth the effort put into creating it.

Creating a movie version of a children's classic that has very little text and is heavy with illustrations that still manages to capture the spirit of the writing isn't easy. But director Spike Jonze and co-writer David Eggers have done just that, expertly bringing author Maurice Sendak's world to life.

It is a world created by the emotions of a young boy who feels ignored, alone and persecuted. The creatures he meets in his land, the 'Wild Things' of the title and the favorite part of the book for most, are brought to life through the artistry of the designers at the Jim Henson Company, though CGI was used mostly to animate the creatures' facial expressions, so their interactions with young Max come across in a much more realistic manner.

"Where the Wild Things Are" contains hints of danger and a few scary moments, and the overall message of the film, which touches upon how difficult and scary childhood can be for some, especially those kids who feel 'different' from others, may be lost on the youngest of kids.

Young Max Records makes his debut as the sensitive Max who learns that being the head of a family is no easy chore.

The film features the vocal talents of longstanding actors who who portray his new friends: James Gandolfini as the sensitive Carol, Lauren Ambrose as KW, Chris Cooper as Douglas, Catherine O'Hara as Judith, Forest Whitaker as Ira and Paul Dano as Alexander.

The film is a bit sad and melancholy, but not too much so, and those moments pass quickly without bogging the overall presentation down.

"Where the Wild Things Are," like the book its based on, is an instant classic, a movie that you can watch again and again. It will likely generate conversations between parents and kids long after the film has ended.

"COUPLES RETREAT"
GRADE: **

There's a message about marriage buried deep inside the latest Vince Vaughn-Jon Favreau piece, but a lot of the jokes fall flat in 'Couples Retreat', the directorial debut of Vaughn buddy and collaborator Peter Billingsley (that's right, 'Ralphie' from 'A Christmas Story' is all grown up and behind the camera now).

The film starts off with Jason Bateman and Kristen

Bell playing a high-strung couple who are having marital problems. They come to their friends with hopes of saving their union by going to an island paradise called Eden for a fun vacation and some couples bonding activities, such as therapy sessions, massages and kayaking, selling the idea in a very impressive PowerPoint presentation.

With eight stars, character development could have been superficial or the roles forgettable; thankfully, however, the majority of characters are well-rounded.

Vaughn plays Dave, a character who is still madly in love with his wife, Ronnie (Malin Akerman), and devoted father and friend. He's the most influential of the group of friends so once he's on board with the trip, the others decide to go along as well.

Another couple consists of Joey (Favreau) and Lucy (Kristin Davis), who have all but given up on their marriage and are largely just staying together until their daughter goes off to college. The last twosome includes Shane, who is still heartbroken over his divorce, and his 20-year-old rebound girlfriend, Trudy.

Filmed largely in Bora Bora, Tahiti, French Polynesia, the film's scenery is spectacular, with deep blue water, lush trees and white sand. Billingsley has a knack for comedic pacing and lets the scenes that deliver funny visuals, such as the couples' yoga class that features inappropriate touching and groping, develop.

The key factor with any ensemble comedy is that all of the characters are entertaining enough on their own to carry their scenes, and that you actually care about them a bit.

There's a message in there somewhere about fighting to make marriage work despite the bumps in the long and winding road, and the comedic moments keep you laughing as well.

Veterans honored in Winchester - Winchester's new Veterans Memorial outside Town Hall was recently unveiled, thanks to the Memorial Committee.

At the same time, the Edward F. O'Connell Memorial Plaza was dedicated, beginning with a short parade stepping off at the high school.

According to the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle," the ceremony was a solemn, important occasion honoring the men and women of our community who have served with the United States armed forces. "The honor roll bearing the names of our veterans," notes the committee, "will keep alive in our memories for generations to come the sacrifices and deeds these individuals performed for the freedoms we now enjoy."

In the process of finalizing details for the parade and program, it was that the VFW Color Guard, Police Color Guard, high school band, a veterans band, VFW members, and other veterans would participate in the parade. All veterans were invited to march in the short parade and to gather beforehand in the high school lot.

The program, according to the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle" in advance of the actual event, "was to include the unveiling of the Veterans Memorial plaques and the unveiling of the O'Connell Memorial Plaque, with remarks provided by the committee chairman, VFW commander, and others.

"The form of the Veterans Memorial, designed by the Walker-Kluesing Design Group under the direction of the committee, is already visible, although the plaques are not to be uncovered until October. The plaques bear the names of veterans from the Civil War, the first war in which residents from the incorporated town of Winchester responded to the call to serve, down to the Vietnam War. The names of war-time veterans since Vietnam have been gathered into a database to be placed on a bronze plaque affixed to a waiting stone and brick wall of the memorial at a future time."

"At the dedication ceremony, seating was provided for those who needed it. A reception followed at the Maurer Auditorium."

Award of a lifetime in Wakefield - "Edward L. 'Ted' Irvin, an associate member of the Wakefield Lions Club was presented with the first Lions District 33N (northeast Massachusetts) annual Lifetime Achievement Service Award," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The plaque presented by Randy Pinch, District Governor 2008-2009 read: 'Lions - Miracles through Service - Massachusetts Lions District 33N 2008 - 2009 Lifetime Achievement and Service Award presented to Edward L. 'Ted' Irvin awarded in recognition for long and exceptional service to the community through the Mission of Lionism and Personal Commitment.'

"District Governor Pinch had enlisted Stacie L. Whittier, then Secretary-Elect of the Wakefield Lions Club to obtain letters from colleagues. She received letters of support for the award from: John 'Wally' Moccia III King Lion of the Wakefield Lions Club, Lions International Director Dr. Patti Hill, Past

"Irvin served as District Governor of Massachusetts Lions District 33N (northeast Massachusetts) 1993-1994 and President of Massachusetts Lions Eye Research Fund, Inc. 2001-2002. He is a Progressive Melvin Jones Fellow, Charles E. Kostro Fellow, recipient of four Lions Clubs

International Presidents certificates of appreciation and a Lions Clubs International President's Leadership medal. He was Lion of the year twice for District 33N and Massachusetts Lion of the Year 2005-2006. Irvin received the Dr. Charles L. Schepens Lions Lifetime Achievement Award in 1999. Irvin serves as Secretary-Treasurer of the Salisbury Lions Club.

"Irvin serves as secretary of the Friends of the Salisbury Council on Aging, Treasurer of the Friends of the Salisbury Public Library, Secretary of the Massachusetts Friends of Libraries, Secretary-Treasurer of the Salisbury Triad Council, and is a director of the Salisbury Chamber of Commerce. In addition, Irvin serves as a director to Elder Services of Merrimack Valley, Inc. and a director to Northern Essex Elder Transport, Inc. (NEET)."

"Down on the farm in Tewksbury and Wilmington - "More than 100 people, including Tewksbury and Wilmington residents, packed into hearing room A-2 at the State House Tuesday for a public hearing before the Joint Committee on Municipalities and Regional Government on House Bill 3818, Tewksbury's home rule petition seeking regulations specific to pig farming in town," notes the Wilmington "Town Crier."

"Some were local residents supporting the measure, and others were farmers, proudly wearing coral buttons reading: 'save family farms.'"

"The committee took no action on the bill at the hearing, which lasted over two hours and took testimony from Tewksbury residents, farmers from around the state, and even the Department of Agricultural Resources, which has been involved since 2007.

"Perhaps the biggest revelation of the hearing stemmed from a question posted by Senator James Eldridge to DAR Commissioner Scott J. Soares. Eldridge asked if there are any other pig farms in the Commonwealth larger than Krochmal Farm, to which Soares answered 'no,' but stopped short of stating that Krochmal is the largest pig farm in the state..."

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA: Who is the only Patriots quarterback to rush for 100 yards and catch a pass in the same game? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

LYNNFIELD NATIVE RYAN WILLIAMS, a former UMass Lowell pitcher, was named to the River Hawks' baseball staff Tuesday, announced head coach Ken Haring.

Williams, who played under Haring at Saint Anselm and one year as a River Hawk, replaces Mike Marron as the staff's pitching coach.

"Ryan is a quality hire because he brings a presence and knowledge to our pitching staff," said Haring. "He also brings experience in this league that you can't measure. He was an All-American at Saint Anselm and his competitive nature on the mound will carry over to our pitchers."

UMass Lowell rode an infusion of young talent last season to a 25-20 record (15-15 in the Northeast-10 Conference, sixth), which included a dominating 12-3 campaign at home.

Highlights included a first round victory over Southern Connecticut in the Northeast-10 playoffs and hurler Jack Leathersich (Beverly, MA) claiming both NEIBA All-Star and Northeast-10 Freshman Pitcher of the Year honors. Over the summer, Leathersich was named the top prospect in the Valley Baseball League by PG Cross Checker.

"Coach Haring and I have had a long relationship," said Williams. "When he called me to see if I was interested, it did not take me very long to see the opportunity—I jumped right in."

"The dynamic of our pitching staff is by far the best in the [NE-10]. They work very hard and they've been around the game before. There are also some young guys like Jack and Dallas Nunes (Easton, MA) who've already made a name for themselves in the league. I don't think there is any other staff in the conference that works harder than these guys."

Williams inherits a UMass Lowell pitching staff that was stellar in 2009, finishing with a 3.14 ERA which ranked second in the NE-10. The River Hawks threw eight shutouts and held opponents to a paltry .236 batting average.

"These guys have been taught what it takes to be dedicated," said Williams. "This year, one of the things I want to instill in them is to finish everything they do. We talk about how finishing everything you do will correlate into finishing the ninth inning when you need it."

Williams has spent the past two seasons pitching professionally. In 2008 he was a member of the Brockton Rox of the Can Am League and in 2007 he signed with the St. Joseph Blacksnakes in the American Association.

A former Northeast-10 standout, Williams toed the rubber at UMass Lowell for his senior season. Prior to that, he pitched for Saint Anselm for three seasons. In 2006, Williams was named to the ABCA/Rawlings All-America Third Team, First-Team All-Region, First-Team All-Conference and was crowned the NE-10 Pitcher of the Year. In that season, he led the conference in four categories: ERA (1.03), innings pitched (105.0), strikeouts (95, tied) and strikeouts looking (36).

Williams earned a bachelor's degree in business from Saint Anselm in 2007.

A native of Lynnfield, Williams attended St. John's Prep high school where, in addition to baseball, he competed in football and indoor track and field. He currently resides in Medford.

OLIVIA PASTORE, A FIGURE SKATER FROM READING, competed in the New England Regional Figure Skating Competition at the Leddy Park Arena in Burlington, Vermont this past weekend. Olivia competed in the Juvenile Level against 36 girls throughout New England.

The top 4 finishes earned the right to compete in the Junior Nationals Figure Skating Championship in Cleveland, Ohio on December 14 - 19. Olivia finished 3rd in the qualifying round (bronze medal) which narrowed the field to 12 girls for the final round. Olivia also finished third in the final round (bronze medal again) earning herself a trip to the Junior Nationals.

Olivia is a seventh grader at the Coolidge Middle School and trains at the Skating Club of Boston on Soldiers Field Road in Boston. Olivia's coach is Amanda Farkas from the Skating Club of Boston.

AMHERST COLLEGE FIRST-YEAR ALI SIMEONE (STONEHAM, MA) was named the NESCAC Women's Cross Country Performer of the Week this afternoon for her effort during the Lord Jeffs' team victory at the Keene State College Invitational this past weekend.

Simeone joins senior teammate Sophia Galleher as the only Lord Jeff runners to be named NESCAC Performer of the Week this season on either the men's or the women's side. The last time an Amherst first-year took home the honor was in October of 2007 when Will Yochum '11 was named the Men's Performer of the Week.

Recently at Keene State, Simeone completed the 5k race only two seconds behind the runner-up with an impressive time of 19:01, which was good enough for fourth place overall and second place among her teammates. The Lord Jeffs placed first in the field of 12 schools to mark their second team victory of the season.

Simeone's performance at Keene State marked the second consecutive race she had finished with Amherst's second fastest time. In her second race of the season, she placed 21st against Division I competition at the UMass-Amherst Invitational.

WESTFIELD STATE COLLEGE HAS NAMED WOBURN NATIVE BOB MIELE as its new men's varsity ice hockey head coach.

Miele, the Owls' assistant coach for the past two years, replaces Jerry Keefe, who last month accepted a position as the top assistant hockey coach at Brown University.

"I am pleased to name Bob Miele as our men's ice hockey coach," said Westfield State athletics director Richard Lenfest. "Bob has an outstanding hockey pedigree and brings continuity, integrity, a strong worth ethic, and the desire to lead our program into the newly formed MAS-CAC (Massachusetts State College Athletics Conference).

"Bob competed at the highest level in Division III while attending Amherst College," Lenfest added. "I look forward to him instilling the same qualities in our student-athletes that translate into success on and off the ice."

Miele's position is full-time at Westfield. In addition to his coaching duties, he is also the manager of athletic facilities.

The West Springfield resident was a key component of the Owls' success during their first year of varsity hockey after a 20-year hiatus when they posted an 11-9-4 record and qualified for the ECAC Tournament during the 2008-2009 season.

"This is a great opportunity for me and I am going to make the most of it," said

Miele. "I've worked with these guys for nearly two years and I am honored to be their coach. My main goal is to keep the program growing."

Miele attended high school at the perennial hockey powerhouse Belmont Hill School ('96). As a senior he was the team leader in goals, Independent School All-League, an HNIB All-Scholastic, and was selected to the Prep/Private Senior All-Star game.

The Woburn native took a post-graduate year at The Hill School ('97), and also played a year for the Boston Junior Bulldogs where he was a 50-goal scorer.

Miele attended Amherst College ('02) where he won ECAC East/NESCAC Rookie of the Year honors. As a sophomore he led the team in points and was the Codfish Bowl MVP.

In his junior year at Amherst, Miele won National Player of the Week honors and was voted All-NESCAC second team. Miele eclipsed the 100-point mark as a senior, finishing with 55 goals and 50 assists for 105 points in 95 games. He was also selected to the ECAC/NESCAC/SUNYAC Senior All-Star game.

After graduating from Amherst, Miele attended training camps and played in exhibition seasons with the Missouri River Otters (UHL), Indianapolis Ice (CHL), and Dayton Bombers (ECHL). He also played a year of Senior A for the Texarkana Bandits, where he averaged over a point a game.

Breton From S-1

ing the one of the program's most successful eras.

Breton also coached softball and volleyball at Bentley. As good a tactician as he was, it was his warmth and humor that set him apart from some of his colleagues. That is likely the trait that allowed him to switch sports as seamlessly as he did as a coach.

As many young lives as he influenced as a coach, he undoubtedly had more impact on a greater number of students in his full-time role at a seventh grade social studies teacher at Burlington's Marshall Simonds Middle School.

"He would do so many great things for the kids," said Hammond, who has known Breton since 1974, when they both coached at Bentley's basketball camp. "He'd take them on nature walks, and he'd do things like bring in yoga people for practices. The kids really responded to it very well."

On Nov. 28, the community will have its chance to respond and give something back to a teacher, coach and mentor who has given so much of himself.

Tips for this flu season, take it from me Vaccination, disinfectants important this flu season

By Dra. Aliza Lifshitz, Internist, Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles

Perhaps no issue has made more headlines this year than the flu. At the core of those headlines is the 2009 H1N1 virus, otherwise known as swine flu virus. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, hundreds of deaths have already been associated with the 2009 H1N1 virus, and the coming months figure to prove even more deadly as flu season approaches.

What's most troubling about the coming flu season, particularly for the nation's large Hispanic population, are the warnings that the season could prove to be the worst yet. According to the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology, the coming flu season could pose a serious health threat. For Hispanics, that's especially concerning, as a recent Associated Press report noted Hispanics are four times more likely to be hospitalized as a result of the 2009 H1N1 virus. Despite that, a September 2009 poll conducted by Garcia Research indicates that 56 percent of Hispanic adults said they were "not concerned" about the flu. In addition, fewer than 4 in 10 indicated that they were "very likely" to get vaccinated for the seasonal flu.

Why Get a Flu Shot?

The flu is highly contagious, easily spreading from person to person, and can be especially harmful to children. However, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the "single best way to protect against the flu is to get vaccinated each year." The flu vaccine can prevent influenza among 70 to 90 percent of healthy adults by protecting against common types of flu viruses that are in circulation.

Who Needs a Flu Shot?

In general, anyone who wants to reduce their chances of getting the flu can and should get vaccinated. The CDC recommends that all children ages 6 months to 18 years be vaccinated. In addition, household caregivers - including moms, dads, grandparents, nannies, and other child care providers - should get vaccinated.

When Should You Get Vaccinated?

Yearly flu vaccination should begin in September or October before flu season peaks, but the flu shot can protect you even if you get vaccinated late in the flu season into December, January and beyond. While flu outbreaks can happen as early as October, flu activity typically peaks in January or later.

How Can Exposure to the Flu Be Reduced?

In addition to getting vaccinated, there are myriad ways individuals can help prevent exposure to the flu virus.

- * Sing and Scrub. Make sure kids wash their hands often. They should wash frequently with warm water and soap for at least 20 seconds (the time it takes to sing the "Happy Birthday" song twice).

- * Cough and sneeze into elbows, not hands. If they don't have a tissue, teach kids to cough and sneeze into the inside of their elbows. Coughing into hands is more likely to spread bacteria and viruses through touch.

- * Disinfect Hot Spots. Kids and adults alike can touch many surfaces in a short period of time. To reduce risk of spreading the flu virus, disinfect hard surfaces as directed using an EPA registered product that is effective against the influenza A virus, such as Clorox(R) Clean-Up(R) Cleaner with Bleach and Clorox(R) Disinfecting Wipes, on commonly touched surfaces. Plastic children's toys, doorknobs, phones, computer keyboards, remote controls, and faucets can all be sources of the influenza virus, and an individual can still get infected 2-8 hours after the virus was initially deposited on the surface. So be sure to make disinfecting such areas a part of your daily household routine.

- * Continue living a healthy lifestyle. Eating right, exercising and getting plenty of sleep help boost the body's ability to fight the effects of the flu viruses.

For more information about helping to protect yourself and your family during flu season, visit www.VidaySalud.com, www.cdc.gov/flu, www.clorox.com, www.Cloroxen espanol.com, or www.cdc.gov/flu/espanol.

These days, the words stability and longevity are seldom heard in the workplace. Businesses and employees seem to come and go. Not a promising concept if you're looking for dependability to care for those that you love.

We can brighten that outlook. Longwood Place at Reading has been caring for local seniors since 1996. For thirteen years, we have provided outstanding personal care, dining, activities and service. Our employee longevity is one of the best in the business, with more than 15 employees boasting 10 years of service or more.

There are a lot of new choices in the market for assisted living, but there is no substitute for experience.

This week's Sampler: The Evansville

The Absecon is an update of the Craftsman-style home, considered the most popular small home in the early decades of the 20th century.

Hallmark features include: the tapered square chimney and porch supports; a low-pitched, gabled roof, accented with decorative braces; and, of course, the simple but intricate door and window detailing. Guest designer Steven Duarte created this plan.

Inside, the layout blends traditional with contemporary. All three bedrooms are upstairs as they often were in earlier versions, but here the master suite has its own bathroom while bedrooms two and three share another. Both of the front bedrooms have ceilings that slope down at the front, with built-in desks facing into the dormer windows.

That same central dormer, so interesting to admire from the street, brightens the entry and stairway. The entry ceiling is a lofty two stories high. Formal rooms are on the right, informal gathering spaces on the left, and the kitchen at center.

Living room and dining room are well-separated. In the living room, the brick or stone fireplace serves as a focal point. Whether it burns gas or wood is up to the owners. Craftsman windows flank the fireplace and another set faces onto the wide front porch. A larger set of similarly designed windows brightens the dining room, along with two more facing the rear.

The relaxed, day-to-day living areas are designed with contemporary families in
